"Time is of the essence."
—SAYING

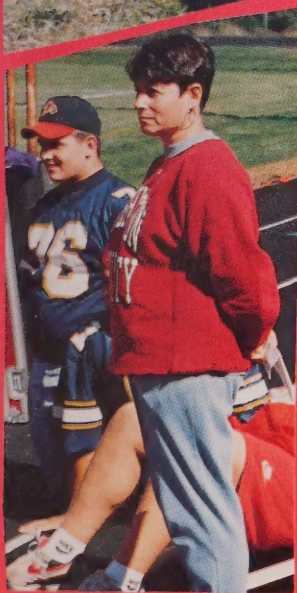

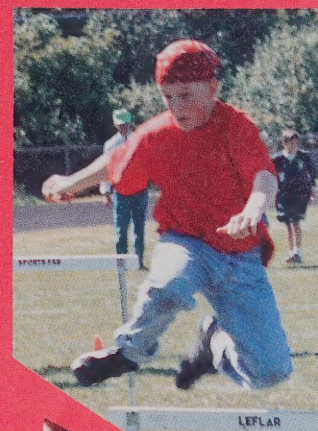

Throughout our lives many things will change, but one thing is a constant—the passage of Time. As students, athletes, musicians, participants, and organizers, each one of us has left our own distinguishable mark. We'll never forget the Times we've spent with faculty and friends partaking in everything Shrewsbury High School has to offer—academics, clubs, athletics, and music. Time is something from which we can never escape. Our five years at SHS was a Time we never wish to forget.

"Observe due measure, for right Timing is in all things the most important factor."

"Satisfaction of the desire means the death of the desire." John Fowles. In the fall of 1989, we gathered in the auditorium at Shrewsbury High School as the Class of 1994. We all remember hearing Mr. Largess' favorite phrase for the first Time, "These years are going to fly by, and before you know it, you'll have graduated." and friends. As we graduate SHS, the satisfaction of five years of desire has been realized. We move on to new de-

Remember When? 9

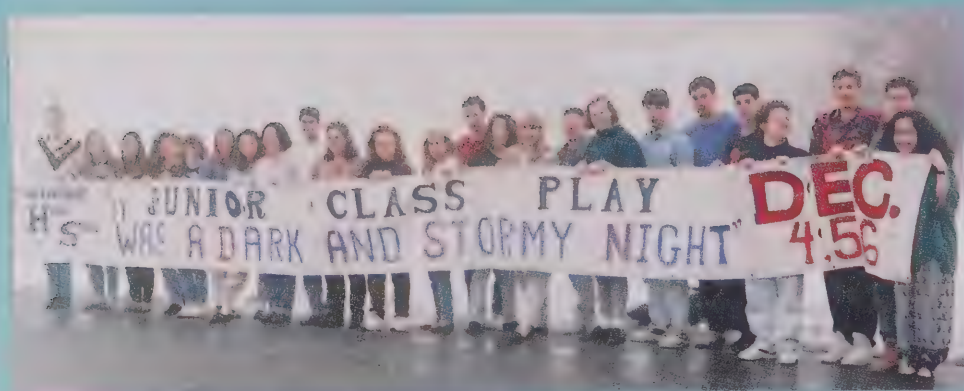

Under the Sea

It seems like only yesterday we were getting ready for our Sophomore Semi Formal. So much time was spent making coral with Crista Gagnon and painting fish for "the mural" organized by Racheal Mars. Stacy Drallios and her committee transformed all the windows to look like the glass sides of "aquaria" with hundreds of fish swimming about "inside". Buffet style sandwiches, snacks and Clearly Canadian were enjoyed at tables decorated by Heather Robertson and her committee. Thanks Jared, Matt, and Dave for the entertainment! Thanks to our Advisors and Chaperones especially the Christies, the Grossos and the Belinskis and all our Parents who helped with decorations!

"It Was A

The curtains dropped on the final act of "It Was a Dark and Stormy Night" and the audience leapt to their feet. The culmination of months of hard work was realized that Friday night, December 4, 1992, where we visited Ye Olde Wayside Inn. As the legacy of the Saltmarsh family unfolded, contentious Ebenezer Saltmarsh, strikingly played by Sameer Bhandarkar, manipulated his "sisters" Amy Augustino and Jen Burton. And, while no one could forget Peter Marsh crawling across the stage in his hilarious portrayal of Uncle Silas, it is important to remember that a successful Junior Class Play takes more than talented actors and actresses. Students and parent committees worked behind the scenes to ensure the best possible performance. Not the least of all this preparation was the creation of the banner, held at left by the cast and crew, which "flew" across Maple Avenue in front of Beal School to advertise the play. A special thank you to Mr. F. for his time and patience!

The two sisters, Hepzibah and Arabella Saltmarsh, look with irritation at Dawson and Belle.

The Junior Class Play Dinner Theater preceded the opening nights performance.

Ebenezer Saltmarsh pushes his latest victim through the lobby of Ye Olde Wayside Inn.

Hepzibah Saltmarsh speaks to the spirit of General Saltmarsh while Dorothy Blake and Ed Perkins sit behind.

Smiling Sam, played by Brad Schmidt, "hawks" his "Lady Cincinnati Beauty Products."

▲▲ Olive, the hired help, returns from digging clams.

▲ Peter Marsh, painted in ghostly white, pulls himself across the stage trying to escape from Ebenezer Saltmarsh.

◆ Snell is looking slick in his slicker as he informs Dawson and Belle about road conditions.

◆◆ Liana Scrimgeour takes a proud bow after opening act.

◆ When Ed Perkins isn't driving his cab he can be found posing for GQ.

◆ Hepzibah and Mary seek information from Snell about the "Stooorm!"

◆ Arabella wants nothing to do with this old bride.

Victorian Garden

White, silver, and mauve decorations transformed the gym into a Victorian Garden complete with gazebo and real gardens for the Class of 94's Junior Prom. 340 guests danced all evening to the music of D.J. Joe Allen amid the glittering stars and romantically lit trellises. Tom Martin of Creations in Food Catering in Shrewsbury offered a sumptuous buffet featuring steamship rounds. Thanks to all the students and parents on the committees for making the night as memorable as it was.

◆◆ It's every man for himself when it comes to getting your picture in the yearbook.
 ◆ This picture proves that Kim Merrill and Jen Springer did wear different dresses.

 ◆◆ A pre-prom picture session at Sheila McDonald's fountain.

- ◆◆ Prom Royalty- the Queen, Lynn Milosz, the King, Craig Gibson, and their court, Courtney Ryall, Todd Bresnahan, Jen Grosso, Andy Roy, Jon Sroka, and Stacey Drallios
- ◆ Tara Largess, Kristin Butke, Julie Wright, and Mandy Snyder look like they're having a good time even without their dates.
- ◆◆ Christine McFadden, Nicole Coyne, Jen Morris, and Tara Slavin interrupted their dancing so we could immortalize them in the yearbook.
- ◆ Mr. and Mrs. Largess were by far the cutest couple at the prom.

Our Advisors . . .

Where Would We Be Without Them????

From Auction '94, through four Field Days; from "Under the Sea", to "Victorian Gardens I and II"; from a trip to Dean Park to inside the Kremlin Walls; we've had the "best" as supporters and guides! Mr. Brandmeyer, we feel you are still with us in spirit. Mr. Chace, thank you for joining us. Mrs. La Belle, Mr. Cornacchioli and Mrs. O'Leary, we are grateful for four years of dedication and just plain hard work. We have and do appreciate you. Many, many thanks!

Flying

We never learn from our mistakes. We forget, simply, majestically, the way fog encircles an island and grounds us for a time. On summer nights we drowse, lift our heads, hear the lonely plane overhead, Cessna, Grumman, Piper, high above the clouds somewhere, its single engine yearning like a heart straight out, strut sure, hell bent, its steely drone one long yes fading into the night. In our dreams, in a forgotten time, we crowd into the cockpit, we hunker, our faces green with the glow of the instrument panel. We roar, winnow through the endless beard of God like Wiley Posts, one eye in the sky, like sad Earharts to live for our time before the sudden sputter, the skip, the needle on E, the silence where all our whispers live, the fall, the rush, the spray of the wave tips slamming against the glass, the breath being sucked out our throats like a scarf, and we would be looking even then as we catapulted wing over wing, for an island with a beacon, a small runway, a cottage with a light left on, a bed turned down, white sheets, a South Seas novel on the nightstand, and an old caretaker tapping at the window, saying, remember, remember.

Renee Arnold: "... walk out of here and smile at the world . . . with one last look you turned and closed the door."
 Surendra Arora: "For the past five years, I walked into door knobs, stumbled down stairs, gabbed, gabbed, and, of course, rationalized the inane."

Jen Burton: "I'm bound away for parts unknown To seek the sights that few are shown I walk with many, yet go alone. I refuse to say goodbye."

Derek Capurso: "I'll never forget the Class of '94 . . . the good times . . . It's only the beginning!"

Tegan DeWallace: "This end is really just the beginning!"

Steve Kim: "What fun we had, SHS and I . . . Together we have conquered the bridge of Time . . . We have learned so much from each other, . . . still there lies mystery in the future . . ."

Marlyce Mancini: "... there's still time to change the road you're on."

Dawn Meehan: "Learn from yesterday, live for today . . ."

Danielle Merchant: "Treasure the past, but live for tomorrow."

Melanie Miett: "A lifetime's not too long to live as friends!"

Mike Riley: "The time of my life . . ."

Scot Robinson: "A special time at SHS was the 8th grade Cape Cod Trip."

Andy Roy: "The 'End of the Road' is a long time off."

Courtney Ryall: "Running for life . . ."

Brad Schmidt: "O Tempora, O Mores!"

Christine Smolynsky: "... Remember the good times."

Sejal Thaker: "... Carpe diem . . ."

Lisa Watson: "The day has come to say goodbye . . . the best times are yet to come!!!"

1994

.. Back Again

I, JASON ABRAHAM, leave #5 Varsity Crew to whomever has the strength to take it over. I also leave the portables to Mr. Bulger because he likes them so much. Finally, I leave three more years of SHS to my brother Jeremy.

I, ANI ARAKELIAN, leave Shant Arakelian four more years of hard labor and my car; Danielle Surabian, my Daisy Dukes; and all my friends, success and happiness.

I, RENEE ARNOLD, leave all my love to the "freaks"; list additions to Speck; and all the letter "E's" to Mr. Hodgen. I leave as a warrior.

I, SURENDRA ARORA, leave my hoedown clogs to Mr. Hursey and my childhood fears to the Tech Ed Department, may you ever be afraid of drills!

I, AMY AUGUSTINO, leave my brother Aaron Augustino to all the girls of SHS; I also leave him my love and gratitude for all the memories we've shared.

I, EVE BARDANIS, leave Jessie, the ability to eat Gyros with plenty of Tsatsiki sauce! Vicki, directions to Andrea's Pizza and to find the green BMW; Amy, a pineapple and a free trip to Hawaii.

I, NANCY BATES, leave Terry a bunch of lefts; Julie, to be late for school by herself; Troy, a piece of gum; Summer of '93; and to ETS, all my unmet deadlines.

I, STACY BELBA, leave Sara my alarm clock to wake up at 5:30 every school day. Shant is left with four long years and no rides from Ani.

I, KEITH BELINSKAS, leave Flex-all Brother, TJ, the ability to stay on his feet; Little Tan, the next player; the love ones I leave behind.

I, ERIN BENOIT, leave my sister Kerry our room all to herself (you can make it as messy as you want).

I, CSILLA BERES, leave here part of MY world in YOUR world and part of MY spirit with YOUR memories.

I, SAMEER BHANDARKAR, leave the gorgeous men of Shrewsbury to my Sis; Kingdom, shovelling my driveway and driving stick to Erik; and Pasquale and Salsa for Nationals.

I, KEVYN BOSMA, leave TJV his own bottle of flex-all.

I, BRENT BROSEIT, leave my spot on the bench in baseball and basketball to anyone deserving it; my Political Action presidency to anyone with as much dedication and interest.

I, KELLEY BROWNELL, leave SHS no more of US, for I am the last Brownell of 91; to all my Junior friends, another year!

I, BINH BUI, leave my candies packs; "very old" running shoes to Mr. Warren and Mr. DiPillato; for Mom and Dad, beautiful house, luxury Lincoln car.

I, JEN LLYNE BURTON, leave an Indelible Impression upon the minds of all those who have known me.

I, LEIGH BURWICK, leave Kisha Josie to have her name on the announcements; Max to hook up with Merri; and Someone to organize the Junior Block Sleepover.

I, KRISTIN BUTKE, leave with a loaf of bread.

I, DEREK CAPURSO, leave Dana a night to swing on the flagpole; Roly, my senior Presidency; and, Sig, a winning soccer season. Sorry, but I'm keeping my Jeep.

I, BETH CARPENTER, leave Tara, Sara, Gina, Sallee, Kerry and Taryn, my laughter. Hopefully, not, Ryan, another year; and Andy, my horn.

I, JOETTE CAVANNA, leave Shelda one more year; Jose, my parking spot; my #4, to whomever can handle it; Tracy M., a bubble bath; Josh, cold mornings.

I, BRIAN CHAMBERS, leave to the future generations at Shrewsbury High School these words: "See ya! Later! So long! I'm outta here! Ha Ha!"

I, SHEILA CHAMPAGNE, leave one more year for Shannon, Monique, Heather and Shelley.

I, SHELLEY CHRISTIE, leave my sister, Tricia, many more years of school; Dani, Meghan and Karlin, the unforgettable soccer memories; and Eddy, to find a new buddy.

I, RUBY CLAPPER, leave Shrewsbury High School with high spirits. I give major thanks to Mrs. Gilmore. Looking forward to marriage and earning money!

I, MARIA COBUS, leave Mandy, Cool Hand Luke, one more year of Shrewsbury High. I leave SHS, finally, a quiet hallway.

I, LOUIS CORAPI, leave my sisters, Lauren and Kristin. Never settle for second best. Thanks Mom and Dad for always being there. I love you all.

I, JULIE CORDELLA, leave Matt, tons of Melvins; Michelle and Carol, grunts and smallfeet; and, Eddie Bourget, nothing (but he wanted his name in this).

I, JASON COSTA, leave my brother Phil, three more years; Julie, another inch to grow. I also leave the quarterback job to anyone who wants it! Cumming, a girlfriend! Melissa, the ability to survive. Goodbye!

I, HEATHER COSTELLO, leave Gina Blacaglia a "lollypop" and a fencepost from the Cape; and Michelle Babigian, a St. John's windbreaker.

I, TODD CUMMING, leave Melissa my knee from Prom Night; Costa, a car; Julie, another inch to grow; and Ed, something.

I, CHRIS DANIELSON, leave Dave Curran, lots of free time and the worst masterpiece I could find.

I, CHARLES DAVIS, leave Keith Kujala, his car keys and a radio; Nick, a bottle of coke; and the responsibility of being the driver to Matt Moore.

I, MICHAEL DELUCA, leave Chris Agboy, to carry on the Game Cocks tradition; and I finally get to leave 409.

I, TEGAN DEWALLACE, leave wishing Meaghan and the gymnasts, the Best of Luck; Roya, your scrunchie; Misquito to buzz; and David, my heart.

I, JOE DILEO, leave Cali, my neck roll; Gator and Eddy, to live up to the Swat Team name, and HR 409.

I, NICOLE SUZANNE DOW, leave more long years of roaming hallways of SHS to all underclassmen; and a message to all: I'm glad I'm not you!

I, STACEY DRALLIOS, leave Dana, Goan and Meg, the man in the window; and Arthur, three more year at Shrewsbury High.

I, MICHAEL ERWIN, leave $50 to the Junior Varsity Football Team.

I, DEBRA FALZOI, leave Erik, a pack of Big Red; Vulture, a chirp; Chris, a certain picture; Curt, a new nickname; and extra big ups to the herd.

I, PATRICK FINACOM, leave Todd my gerbil collection.

I, AMY FISHER, leave Little Faster, a coupon from Jenny Craig; Christopher, never to get his watch back; Roya, a new ride to school; and Sandra, her own phone line.

I, CARA FOLEY, leave Dennis the Grip; Joel, something tangible; Sarah and Sam, Becky and Rebel without a cause; Heath, Je; and to Mandy, I give my locker.

I, SONIA FRAGA, leave Ryan Mulcunry in search of someone else shorter than he is; J.T., a clue; my sister, her own line; and, Karla and Diana, much luck.

I, ANNE FRENZEL, leave a big hug for all my friends; a kiss for Onkel Bob; my painting to Mr. Hassett; and my love to my U.S. mummy!

I, CRISTA GAGNON, leave to the unexpected freshmen: always leave your shades down; to Caryn, sap; and, to my brother: be the last and best of six.

I, JULIANE GESTONE, leave my sister, Erica, confident that by her graduation she'll turn heads with her beauty and intelligence; Shimak, laughing without me; and, finally, knowing my life has only just begun.

I, JUSTINE GIARDIELLO, leave Joellen, the keys to my car (yeah right) and an econo-size bag of Skittles; and Julie, to chase after "what's-his-name"?

I, CRAIG GIBSON, leave my family to the soccer team; Jim, to Court and Bridge; and, little Gib, the Sunday paper.

I, SCOTT GILLAM, leave dazed and confused, with no regrets; and Yearbook Photography to the next Shutterbug (Connolly) who dares to step inside the heap.

I, CATHERINE GORMAN, leave Kisha, jumping Jack Instructions; Ashley, to find a new back-cracker; Matthew, to break that finger; and Tanya, to be the killer halfback.

I, GLENN GOULD, leave Jazz trumpet section to Jon and Matt??; the floatable to anyone who wants a ride; dangerous and wild Matt, will you live through college.

I, KELLY GRAMPIETRO, leave my cousin Terry, a folded map; Troy, to "cheer-up"; and Nancy, the guys at Pawtucket and a great big smile to always cheer her up!

I, BETH GREGORY, leave Moe to do the Biffy; Meg, "Now and Forever"; Dana, the scale laugh; Raya, my gymnastics trait; and Mish, SHS with one less enemy.

I, JOHANNA GROCHOWSKI, leave my X-C team, 100 push-ups and 100 sit-ups; Jason, the name "Groch", and "4212", to some fresh- with four more years of school.

I, JEN GROSSO, leave Roly and Roo still needing permission to go out on weekends; Matt O'Donnell, lots of hugs; and Reuvalina and Tommy, looking for rides.

I, MATTHEW J. HADDAD, leave Reuven and Tom dazed and confused; Matt, his shoes; Pete, a Senior; Chris, live with me at college; Merissa, the keys to the "O", (not).

I, KRISTY HAGAN, leave Monique Dowling, every light reflector and "For Sale" sign in Shrewsbury.

I, JEFF HARBERT, leave the Cat's Paw to Mike Cardoza; the NFL Treasury to whomever wants it; and, two more "exciting" years for my sister.

I, KIMBERLY HARKINS, leave Joe, Malynda, Sera, Elliot, Mikey and Lauren; but, not forever. And, a "path no one else may follow".

I, KRISTA HAWLEY, leave the high school to three more Hawleys; Jane Fonda to future District Champs; Coke and Grasshoppers to the Millers, and eight years to Al.

I, CHRIS HEBHARDT, leave as fast as possible.

I, MONICA HERON, leave Bobby Mersereau all the teachers I once had; Luke, all the lower- classmen, all the frustration of being a Senior and a new car.

I, CHAD HESPELL, leave Burp, all the cute guys left in the school; Ed Bedrosian, three more years to learn what high school is really about.

I, JARED HOLLEY, leave Khara one more year of SHS; and to the SHS Football Team, I leave my great talents and ability. HeHe.

I, MIKE HOULIHAN, leave #17 to Mike Ruggan and hope he will get it all four years of football. I also leave my brother, John Houllihan.

I, BRIAN HUGGINS, leave my drawer to Shooshan, Ig for D'Erico, a car for Charlie, and a working stereo for Nick.

I, NICHOLAS HUMPHREY, leave Jay Popp, #6; Jay Cael, two more years and bragging rights.

I, JIM HUTCHINSON, leave wishes of good luck to two groovy people, who can truly appreciate the "Evil Dead" movies. That's right. Who's laughing now?

I, JUHANA JALKANEN, leave nothing much.

I, TEJAL JOSHI, leave all of my friends still in SHS with one thought . . . Keep reaching for the stars, because they are within your grasp.

I, ERICA KANE, leave my sister, Sara, an empty house to do all the chores, my phone time and no ride to school.

I, AVIV KAUFMANN, leave my lawn for Meola to cut, cash for Ray, wood for Troy (yes, free), and the field for Ashley.

I, RYAN KECK, leave the bass section to Julie and Calle; the Jazz Ensemble; my smoke-burned locker; Physics - finally; and all my dreams and eternal love to Kelly.

I, JIM KEEVAN, leave Koz the two mile record to be broken; Malcolm, another year with Mrs. Harfield; and a Frito to Dawn and Rocco.

I, DARREN KELLEY, leave uh, huh, huh, huh, huh, huh, huh, huh.

I, JEFF KELLY, leave Mike Hogan as Captain; Jen L., a storm window; and Khalil, Bill and James, anyone they can get.

I, STACEY MARIE KILROY, leave my sister three more years of roaming the halls for me; Meg, all my books and late night car rides; Slim, my bad attitude; and Sean, all my love.

I, MEG KRAUSE, leave all my hyper-ness to my brother, Bri; Luke, to fend for himself for a little while; and an insane memory for my friends.

I, KEITH KUJALA, leave the driving responsibilities to Matt Figueras; to Jay Cael, control your urges; to T.J. Valentine, the last of the Flex-All Brothers.

I, JENNIFER LABBE, leave Patti, Brittany, Tim, Reuven and Tam, the responsibility of carrying on our half-day traditions.

I, TARA LARGESE, leave Carl, to find my scrunge on Main Street; Moe, two thumbs up, and Erin, #22, to take care of my unfinished business.

I, JOANNA LEGIERSKA, leave one year of my life full of new experiences, new friends, pains and sweats of communicating in English, trying to survive on hamburgers and french fries.

I, JEFF LEMIRE, leave Rigger, my ability to pass.

I, BILL LEPIESZA, leave Koz, to break all the records; Gary and Jamil, to keep hope alive; and, Jeff, Khalil and James, anyone they can get.

I, JOE LIBERTY, leave Greg Calmeris the bathroom pass to the Nurse's Office. I also leave Ryan Mulcunry an autographed T-shirt by R.D. Gow; to Matt Taft, a bag full of gum.

I, MARLYCE MANCINI, leave Paultie with no one to blame; Al, five of everything; Michele, Jackie, Kerry and Steph lots of luck; and Duane the keys to the Dynasty.

I, HEATHER MANN, leave all of my unsigned cut slips to Mrs. Leone.

I, ASHLEY MARQUIS, leave Kate directions to everywhere; Mike to conquer the Smith Walton; the softball team, a fish; and my blue goose to Dan!

I, PETER MARSH, leave Shrewsbury with the answer to the eternal question: How many licks does it take to get to the tootsie roll center of a tootsie pop?

I, FRANK MARTELL, leave the best and the worst five years of Derrick's life to the public school system.

I, SHAYNA MAZZOLA, leave my brother, Robbie, many more successful years here at SHS.

I, MICHAEL MCCARTHY, leave Mike Hogan to be Captain of the golf team.

I, VICTORIA MCCOY, leave Patti without a ride to Denny's; Jen, an unlimited supply of loose coins and mashed potatoes; and Tom and Reuven without any more band trips to look forward to.

I, SHEILA McDONALD, leave Cindi and Brenda room 415; Brian, to someone else to play street hockey; and Bob, Doug, and Jon, sunflower seeds.

I, CHRISTINE MCFADDEN, leave Tracy and Rich years of memories to come.

I, DAWN MEEHAN, leave Shannon White first chair in Orchestra; Troy a piece of gum; Ralph my chocolate chip cookie; and everyone still trying to figure me out.

I, ELENA MENEGAKIS, leave, Good Luck to all my friends in the future. Good Luck to everyone still here at SHS. Peter and Nick, good luck everywhere you go.

I, KIM MERRILL, leave Tim, two more years of school; Karin, all my Chiquita stickers, Jon, many aquantances, Kate and Jen, cowboy boots and everyone else, my smiling face.

I, DANIELLE MERCHANT, leave my brother, Eddy, to find a new alarm clock for his last two years here at SHS, and Taryn O'Brien a new stroke to face.

I, MICHELLE MERSEREAU, leave my brother three more years.

I, LAUREN MICHALAK, leave Steph the "Delawares" and Jen the final year at SHS.

I, SHARON MICKEVICH, leave Jen first pick at my closet, Elena, "QUICKNESS," Jim, purple sunglasses, Kelly, my "dumb" questions, and everyone, tickets to my first performance! BYE and John Tremba to stay alert.

I, MELANIE MIETT, leave Bob Keenan to walk alone untied, Peter, a big hug.

I, ELIZABETH MILLER, leave Partl the good skin and a pen, Korkidis and Reuven, a chemistry set and the cemetery, Jen, Coke and new shorts, and The Grunt to Michelle and Carol.

I, LYNN MILOSZ, leave Amles, Ben, Danl, Ed, Jenny, Joanna, Marty, Sallee, Wendy, and all the crew some more years at SHS and my eternal spirit behind.

I, KATIE MINAHAN, leave Allison three more years at SHS, Sallee, memories; Kim and Jen, cowboy boots; and all my friends, a voice to never forget.

I, SUCHARITA MISHRA, leave power fenders to Lubu; cherry jokes to Cindy & Matt; Chris, his own address: "last-second prep power" to all NFLers; but I take away wonderful memories.

I, SONIA NOEMI MOJICA, leave my brothers, love one, and friends a piece of advice: Don't mess up your life, and, stay in school! Peace, Love, and Hair Grease.

I, ROCCO MORANO, leave Jim Keegan stranded at Strawberry's with a free T-shirt; and Greg Fleischer his new tape, which is on its way via ship from Germany.

I, LEIGH NIGRO, leave my nephew Ryan stuff and what not, Diana and Carla mint; Megan, no more trip to McDonalds; and Ed a good hockey season.

I, HANH NGUYEN, leave my wonderful teacher, Mrs. Figueras, all the new foreign students.

I, JOHN O'CONNOR, leave Kevin two years to throw the shot put 50 feet; Brian four years to score a touchdown and hit a homerun; and Julie the last Snickers.

I, AMANDA OTTOSON, leave Karen D'Amico sunshine; Doug Clark, my car when he needs to think; and, my neighbor block parties, to party without me.

I, KATIE PRATT, leave Ashley a class on navigation skills; Meg, a measuring stick; Tara, new tires; Todd, Someday; Tony, The Chess Club; and Joette, some Jello. Good Bye.

I, MEGAN RAMSAY, leave Taryn one more year of confusion; Rood, goals to save; and Luke, Stephen to watch while I'm at school; and, Todd, memories!

I, NATHAN RAND, leave the roads much safer, and flying E.L. Fudge Cookies; Jackie, a watch so she can be on time.

I, BRIDGET RICHARDSON, leave with Rachel to get some tasty treats: Ryan, special night reflectors; and, Moe, anything I haven't already said.

I, MIKE RILEY, leave Matty Hochstein all the girls at the Homecoming Dance. I leave a bench clearing brawl to the Freshmen Baseball Team.

I, HEATHER ROBERTSON, leave Lish to live out her dreams in Canada; Andrea, an open field and a rubber ducky; the two Amy's, to get out of here!

I, TAMMY ROGERS, leave Diane and Carla with two more years; and Sandra, her very own, uninterrupted phone line.

I, D. ANDREW ROY, leave hoping that someday, somehow, Khalil will drive me to school in a 1974 Corvette, listening to 8 track cassettes.

I, COURTNEY WEST RYALL, leave Dana and Meghan Young to sing Nashville alone; Jay Popp, a new tire, and Jim to NO ONE!

I, KHALIL SAMARA, leave to Becky an order of potato skins with extra sour cream; to Morgan and Tanzer, the camel tradition, and to Carol my love.

I, NEHA SAWE, leave Sameer my U2 CD's.

I, BRAD SCHMIDT, leave the Sven sign to Mr. Hodgen and Dr. Klug; worship it forever. I also leave domination of Shrewsbury Seminary to Rich.

I, JOANNE SCHNARE, leave Debble and Lynne our infamous bench at THE park. We'll always have that!

I, EMILY SHARTIN, leave Erik a stick shift Range Rover; Gary and Chris, a back-seat chainsaw; and my brother, Yosh, a big Stoopie - Sissy - Pantshead.

I, TARA SLAVIN, leave Stacey, Ani, Kim, Shell, Jules, Meg, Kate, Spigner, Kate, Chris, Jenny P. and Liss, all the unforgettable laughs and memories... and my love and friendship, always.

I, AMANDA SNYDER, leave Bob Keenan to walk alone untied; Mo, TV, all to herself; and Kristin Mullhouse, a yellow card.

I, EMILY E. SMITH, leave smiling upon the sport of gods (x-country); Kisha, Kate, Jen, the peanut run; Deb, once-in-a-lifetime BANANA; Michele, my toes; and Allison, silence that is my life.

I, JANUARY SPALATRO, leave Marty with Mira; Goon, Mish, Dana, Jo and Carrie, Districts '95; and PJ and Biffy, the legend of the eye.

I, JEN SPRINGER, leave Sal one final year to find the runaway train; Kim and Kate, cowboy boots; and the memories to all my friends.

I, JONATHAN SROKA, leave Mark and Jamil the keys to the office; and Shrewsbury High School, knowing that I will be followed by two more Srokas.

I, CHRIS SWEET, leave the last three Sweets; Mrs. Schroeder; and Jay Cael's sister.

I, SEJAL THAKER, leave everything to my sister, Sonal, except the unforgettable memories at Shrewsbury High.

I, MATTHEW ROBERT THIBODEAU, leave Zuschusen all my Spanish homework; Frankie T., "The O.K. ones, not the pretty ones!" And, finally, to "Jo", all the skittles in the world.

I, RACHEL M. TODD, leave Kristin Mullhouse, Carrie Coppelatti and Bridget to drive the get away car after I snag those tasty treats.

I, GEORGE TORBAY, leave my younger brother, Rich, to carry on the Torbay legend!

I, MICHAEL USHINSKI, leave Chris Olds (Mal) a bellowing "C'maaaaaant!" and Allison J., an application to B.U. Good Luck!

I, HEATHER VENZA, leave Jen and Leigh some chapstick; Liz, Vic and Jen, some bread; and Kisha, to find a new hero.

I, RACHEL WADSWORTH, leave Cross-country to Meg, Amy, Karla, Bridget, Nicole, Jen and Emily and memories of Camp Foss.

I, JENN WALL, leave Andrew with Rusty's suspensions; Kristen, the bus; Beth, my laugh; Luke, grey poupon; and Taryn, to "think about it"!

I, LISA WATSON, leave my determination. Underclassmen, you don't have a lot of time. So make the best of your years. Work hard in whatever you do!

I, SUSAN WATT, leave rubles and diamonds to the next person in line.

I, DAVID WEINGART, leave the NFL to whomever will maintain its "greatness: the band, to get some new hats; and the name "David" to Eric.

I, T.J. WHITE, leave Fig, his jacket; Chris, a grinder; Melissa, to walk alone; Moe, her locker; and, my World Civ Class, a pair of red shoes.

I, JULIE WRIGHT, leave Stoney and James my job at Filene's in Framingham; my date, semi-less; Carl, Liberty Drive; Ryan, to behave without his mother; and Megan, feeling mint.

I, LESLIE WU, leave the memory of three Chinese girls to Mrs. O., and a pair of argyles to Wu II.

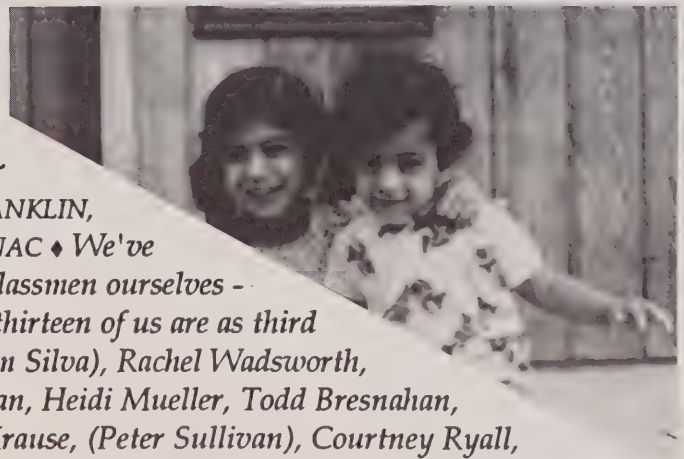

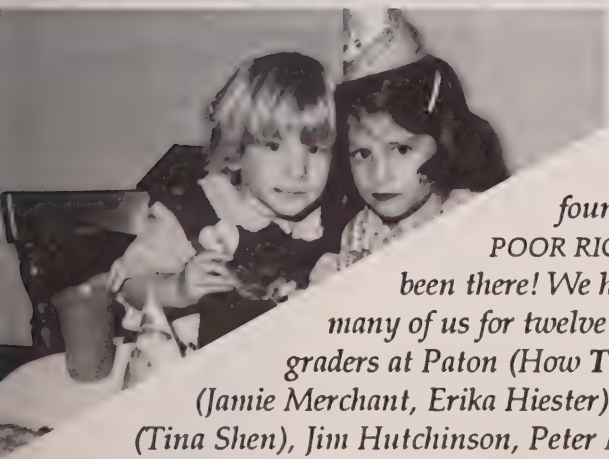

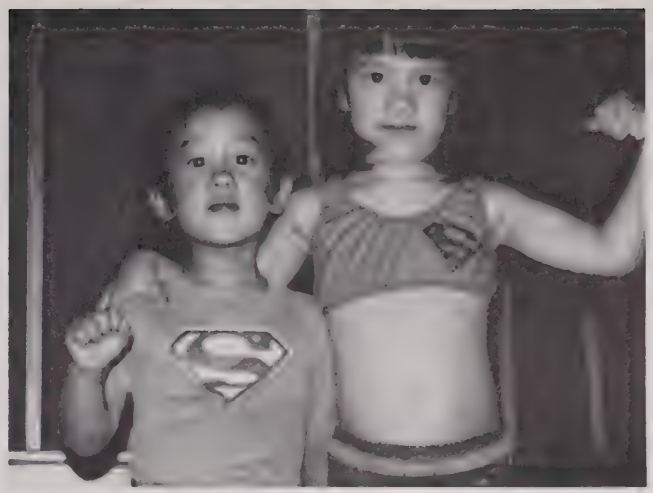

I, KOREY YOUNG, leave Amy Correia my mailbox and Nicole Jalbert, a "laugh" and fond memories of my wonderful driving skills.

I, SELENNIA YOUNG, leave Deanna Angelo the power to fight against all the closed-minded people in this school.

I, JENNIFER YOUNKER, leave Michelle Road, a new crew buddy; Reuven Singer, a Caribbean Island; and Willy, my footsteps. If you should ever get lost.

I, PHILLIP ANDREW ZAPPONE, leave a "lawsuit" against Jr. Block Admin, for losing my home video; in search of something better to do than drive from Dean Park to White City.

I, LIANG ZHENG, leave my tennis racquet to Andre Agassi; I'll leave my love for the game to Stephanie Strom.

*"Lost
Time is never found again." -- FRANKLIN, POOR RICHARD'S ALMANAC ♦ We've been there! We have been underclassmen ourselves - many of us for twelve years. So, here thirteen of us are as third graders at Paton (How Time flies!):(Adam Silva), Rachel Wadsworth, (Jamie Merchant, Erika Hiester), James Parmakian, Heidi Mueller, Todd Bresnahan, (Tina Shen), Jim Hutchinson, Peter Marsh, Megan Krause, (Peter Sullivan), Courtney Ryall, Sheila Champagne, Jason Abraham, Sharon Michevich, (Sean Flynn), Khalil Samara, (Jason Gersein, John Humenick), Emily Shartin, (Katie Valas, Danielle Nanigian, and Jared Miller). Now as graduating Seniors (How
Time has flown!) we pass the "baton" to the Underclassmen who follow: Bonnie Cuccaro with Tejal Joshi, Deanna
Angelo with Selenna Young, Leslie Wu with Chris Wu, Carol and Jen Grosso, Sameer Sawe with Neha Sawe. ♦

Doughnuts Anyone?: A Survey!

▲ Barry Shenette organizing the survey results.

Most Creative Responses

"Chocolate was creamy . . . tasted good . . . I could tell it was the one."

-Jessie Broadbent

"... fluffy . . ."

-Anita Bhandarkar

"... not sugary enough . . . thin (only 1 inch high) . . ."

-Chetak Reshamwala

"Not too sweet, not extremely soft, not greasy . . ."

-Sandra Fraga

"I enjoyed its [doughnut's] rustic bouquet immensely. A good doughnut for the home!"

-Yoshio Shartin

The Results

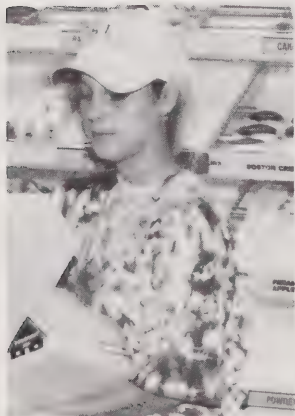

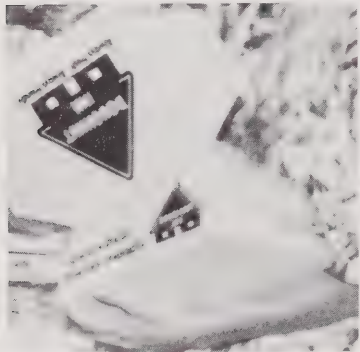

Type	Doughnut Inn	Dunkin' Donuts
Chocolate	15	2
Jelly	7	4
Cinnamon	8	9
Honey Dipped	3	6
Totals:	33	21

Students who volunteered to be part of this survey selected their favorite kind from among the four listed here. They were then blind taste tested and chose their favorite from the two local vendors. Above are the results.

◆ Anita Bhandarkar

◆ Yoshio Shartin and Chet Reshemwala

How do you like your doughnuts?
Barry Shenette surveyed the freshmen class on this and other questions from an idea that started in a World Civilizations class discussion on trade and marketing. "A little bit of R & D (Research and Development) . . .", Barry stated. After gathering the results and tediously computing them, he saw that chocolate doughnuts from the Doughnut Inn were the most popular.

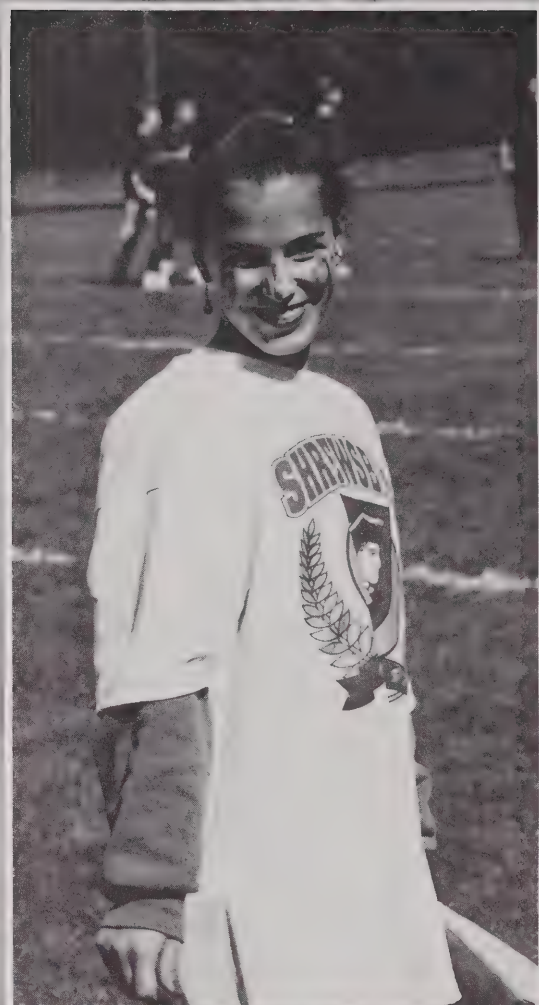

◆ Senior Courtney Ryall gets up very early each Sunday Morning to put together boxes and serve doughnuts and coffee to the many Shrewsburyites who make Doughnut Inn a favorite stop.

As an Eighth Grader, there are many problems and situations that one must solve and survive before moving up to become a true high school student: being directed to the third floor pool, stuffed in lockers, and being subjected to the overcrowded hallways of upperclassmen. ♦ ♦ Eighth Graders enjoy their own school lunches. ♦ Tim LaBua, Greg Filippetti, Josh Grenier listen to Mr. Warren during Health Class.

*"Time is the most valuable thing a man can spend." --
THEOPHRASTUS, DIOGENES LAERTIUS ♦
Teachers spend more Time in school than any one student would care to believe. Correcting papers, preparing material, and giving extra help only scratches the surface of teachers' dedication to their students. The atmosphere in the classroom is one where students and teachers work together to foster learning. The hours spent as advisors to classes, clubs, activities, and events are amazing in their number and variety. Administrators and School Committee, too, are involved and supportive! At every point and Time there are many working to develop young minds toward maturity. ♦ "Time is the school in which we learn." -- SCHWARTZ, FOR RHODA*

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

♥ Assistant Superintendent Dr. Tripp discusses exam rescheduling.

ADMINISTRATION

◆ Jen Lepiesza serves Mr. Montecalvo a hot cup of joe at the Rotary Pancake Breakfast.

◆ Mr. Largess, Dr. Peterson and Mr. Brandmeyer listen intently at a meeting on education reform.

◆ Mrs. Meyers comes to us live (with the sun in her eyes) from Field Day.

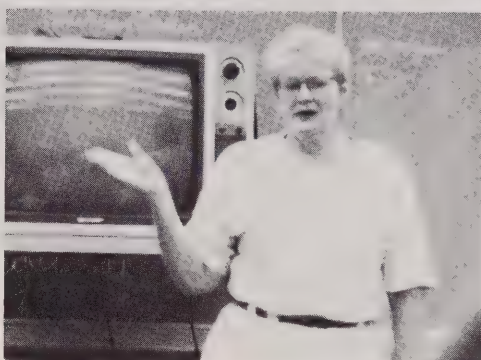

◆ Mrs. LaBelle and Dr. Collins discuss graduation requirements at SHS.

♥ Mrs. Mariano ready to look up your class rank.

♥♥ Mrs. D'Elia diligently works on the visiting college reps schedule.

The SHS Guidance Department, always in good spirits and ready to tackle the old college apps: Mr. DiPilato, Mr. Hassett, Mrs. Garvey, Mrs. Dolan, Miss Galipeau.

GUIDANCE

◆◆ Miss Galipeau stresses the importance of deadlines to seniors.

◆ Mr. Spisto stops to chat with Jessica Ludovico.

◆◆ Dr. Curran, our favorite school psychologist, is there to help when you stress out. Here he discusses a recent meeting with Mrs. Garvey.

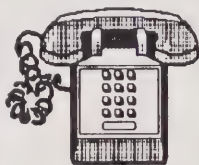

Mr. DiPilato battles the onslaught of recommendations and midyear reports.

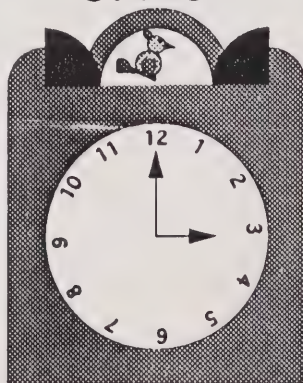

The telephone is the main tool of the Office Staff. It was difficult for the Yearbook Camera to capture them at other tasks! With approximately fifteen hundred people in the building, it is perhaps no wonder: the incoming, the outgoing and the inter-office messages frequently keep all the lines in use. Left, Mrs. Collier routes all incoming messages to Administration, Departments, Staff and Students. Upper right, Mrs. Peterson, takes care of the many Attendance matters, organizing with her assistants and coordinating with Mr. Brandmeyer.

Right, Mrs. Angelo manages Main Office matters, including Dr. Peterson's letters and newsletters. For her the computer is essential. Lower left, Mrs. Peterson shows Kristin Buma, attendance assistant, part of the attendance process. Other students who assist Mrs. Peterson are Marlene Homer, Victoria McCoy, Elizabeth Miller, Melissa Baima, Harmony Mauzey, Tina Nguyen, Kate Beach, Lauren Murphy, Wendy Moore, Janine O'Hare, Shelley Belsito, Sheila Champagne, Katrina Knipe, Bonnie Shanahan and Kelly McCarthy. Lower right, Mrs. Charles, until Mrs. Leone returns, takes and makes calls for Mr. Largess, as well as handling all those "blue slips".

"An invasion of armies can be resisted, but not an idea whose true Time has come." -- V. HUGO, HISTOIRE d'un CRIME ♦ What do SHS students do with all their "free Time?" Involve themselves in any number of the high school's clubs and activities, of course! For example, the Time students spend starts before school with Student Council, continues through activity period with, among others, the Political Action Group, follows the close of school with Excelsior, extends into the night with NFL, and into the weekend with NHS. This is Time spent not only with college applications in mind, but also for learning, fulfillment and enjoyment. The accolades SHS clubs and activities receive, and well-rounded students they help produce, illustrate the important role that clubs and activities play at SHS. ♦ "Never before have we had so little Time in which to do so much." -- F. ROOSEVELT, FIRESIDE CHAT(1942)

Yearbook '94 is both a club, job, and some days, your life. A club, because of the voluntary nature of membership. A job because of the work and dedication that staff of Yearbook '94 has put in to produce the Colonial. At all hours of the day and night, almost seven days a week, from late August through July, staff members and Mrs. O'Leary can be found in either the Yearbook office or in 413 working on layouts or creating copy. With work time on each page averaging four to five hours, it is easy to see just how all encompassing the yearbook can be. Now, you are enjoying the culmination of a year's work by many individuals (see colophon pg. 236). Staff members feel their effort is worthwhile because now the memories of high school are only as far away as the bookshelf.

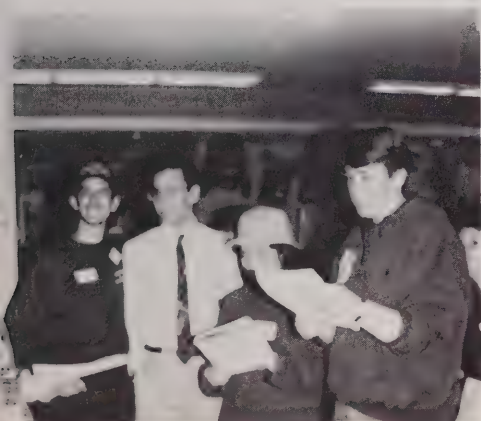

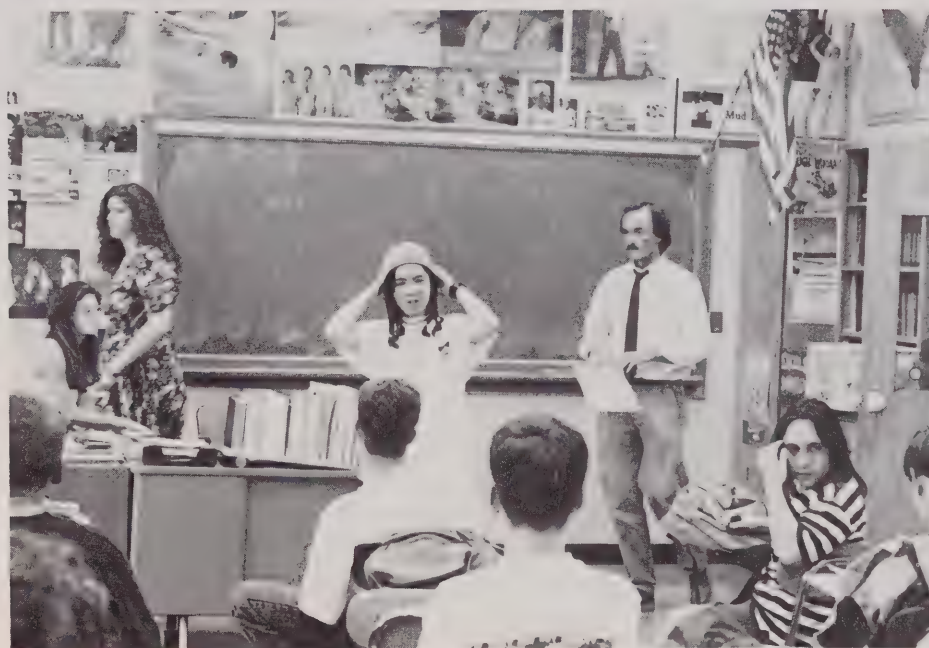

Of course we sponsored our own page!

Excelsior

Excelsior is Shrewsbury High's award winning literary magazine. Over the past few years, its popularity has grown considerably, thanks to the strong leadership of Editor-in-Chief Emily Shartin, Layout Director Ben Simon, advisor Mr. Hodgen, and all the indefatigably dedicated officers and staff members. They would like to remind you to support student writing at SHS: submit to and buy Excelsior early and often! New members are always welcome.

Town Crier

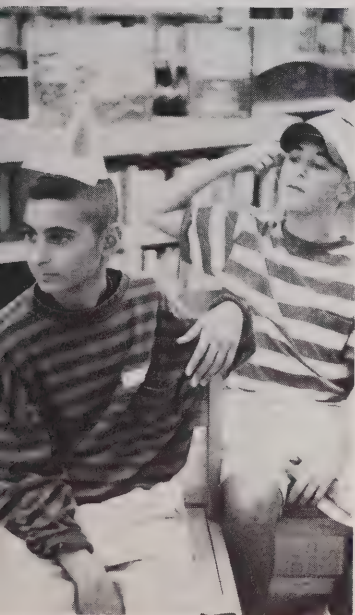

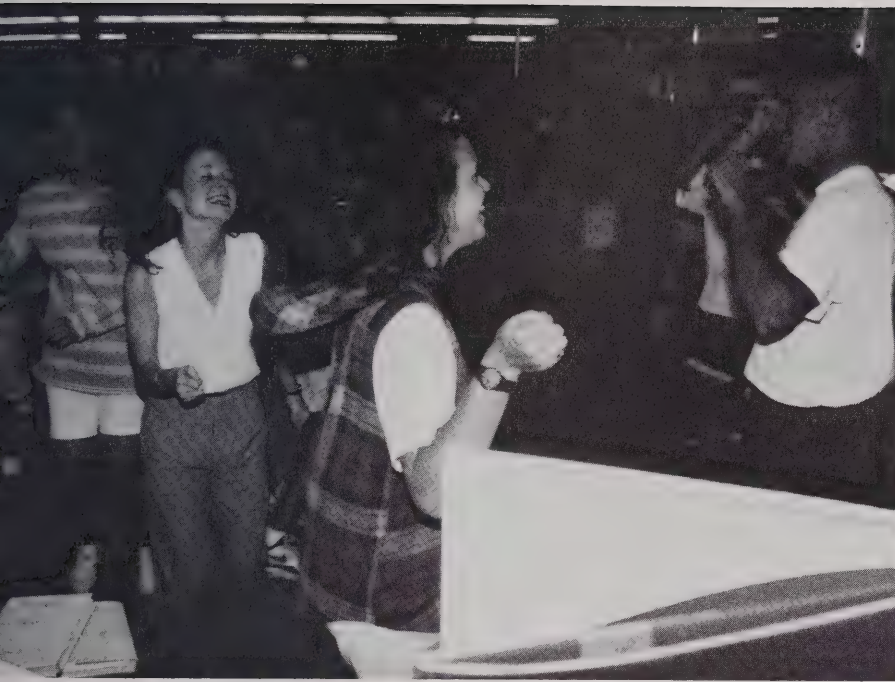

News, editorials, and even Holiday Wishes can be found in the Town Crier. Being Shrewsbury High School's only news publication, the Town Crier is responsible for keeping SHS students abreast of the latest happenings in the school. Mr. Tsombakos' third period Journalism class (a.k.a. the staff of the Town Crier) learn the ways of the reporter, producer, and editor to deliver a final product to an anxious market of SHS news hungry students. Mr. T's class not only produces a substantial periodical, but it also prepares many students for a future in journalism. Who will be Shrewsbury's next ace reporter for the T & G?

A Visit from Dr. Antonucci

In October SHS was lucky enough to host State Commissioner of Education Antonucci for a day. At a school assembly in the auditorium mediated by Mr. Cormier, Commissioner Antonucci responded to questions from a student panel made up of Amy Augustino, Sameer Bhandarkar, Matt Hochstein, and Sonali Maheshwary. Members of the audience were also given an opportunity to question the Commissioner. The questions were of high quality and dealt with the many complex issues facing education reform in Massachusetts. Overall, it was an enriching experience that allowed the students of SHS to learn more about an issue having a direct impact on their lives. Dr. Antonucci met with teachers and toured the school. He also took his tour on the "Adventure" apparatus, holding his own.

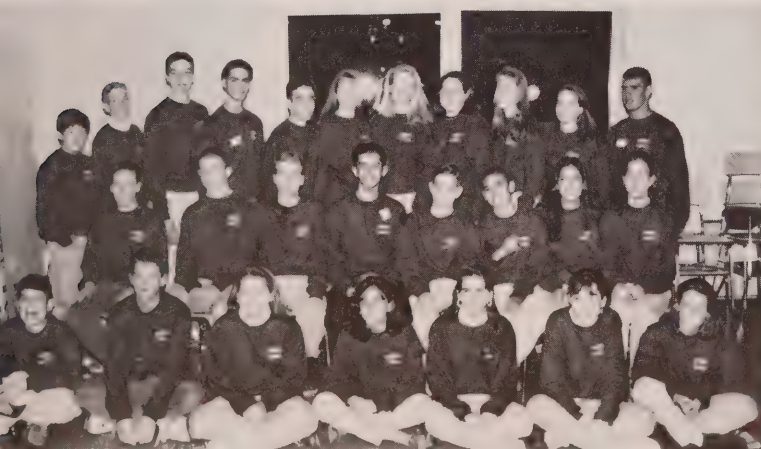

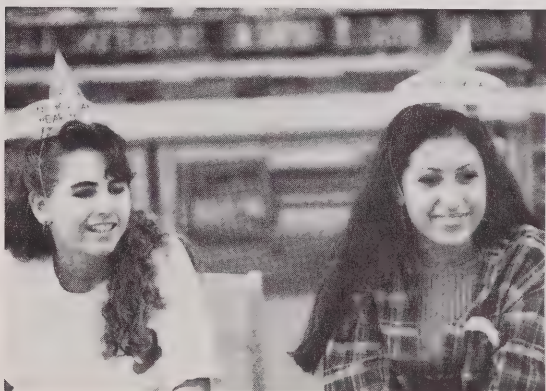

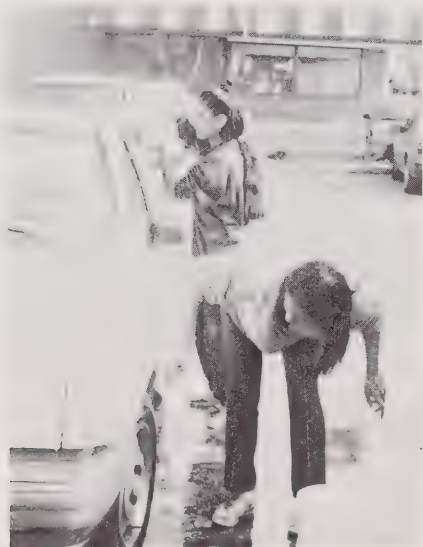

Student Council

Student Council is active all year round doing various types of community service. Annual activities include the Halloween party and the Rotary Club pancake breakfast. The year starts off with a summer seminar to work on group and communication skills.

See SC ad page 202. Thank you!

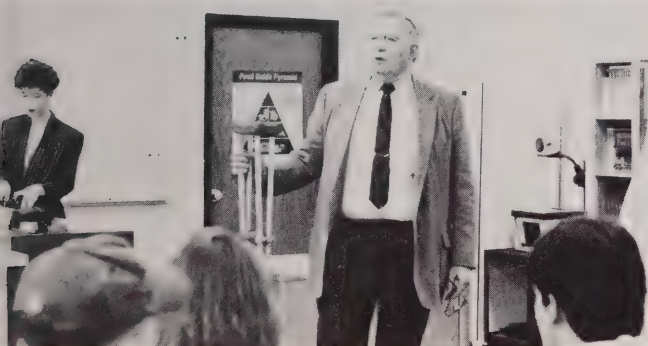

Student Initiatives

Student Initiatives was started two years ago by Ian Liston, Sarah Boylan, and Matt Corey. Since that time, SI has organized activities such as post prom parties, dances, movie nights, and a car wash. This year's officers are Jon Sroka (head chairman), Jeff Harbert (financial coordinator), Korey Young (fundraising coordinator), Jen Lepiesza (publicity coordinator), and Sherry Daviau (activities coordinator). The advisor is Mrs. DiLeo. SI's main goals are to promote abstinence from alcohol, and to help fellow students deal with the difficult social issues facing America's youth today.

Student Outreach Services

SOS has benefited high school, middle school, and foreign exchange students; all who are new to Shrewsbury. This year SOS scheduling did not allow them to meet during the day as in years past. This did not deter SOS from having their annual summer picnic to welcome foreign exchange students and other new arrivals to SHS. Newcomers were given a tour of the school and shared supper in the front courtyard. Frisbee followed and when the event ended new friendships had begun. Hopefully next year SOS will be able to schedule meetings and so continue their greatly needed service to the school! The advisors are Ms. Dolan, Mrs. Black, Ms. Galipeau, and Mrs. DeFalco.

Jobs for Bay State "Grads"

JBSG is a program that helps students to comprehend what the world of employment is all about. Students involve themselves in projects that enable them to experience different aspects of certain jobs before they leave high school. There are JBSG competitions that are held each year. Students prepare in many different categories to compete with other JBSG students from across the state. Each year SHS is proud to acknowledge its many finalists. JBSG is more than a class that meets during the week, it is a program that gives JBSG students a head start on life! Mrs. Crowley is the teacher of JBSG. (above center) Mr. Siff (above), Director of the Business Department, addresses the class. Connie Gilroy and James Rainwater (above right) helped to host the annual JBSG competition held at SHS.

SHS Leadership Team

The SHS Leadership Team brings together student leaders in order to discuss issues and implement plans for the continued high quality of student government at SHS. Members include the Student Council officers, the SAC, Presidents of band, chorus, and orchestra, all class officers, and representatives from the sports teams' captains

Student Advisory Council

Members of the Student Advisory Council are elected each year by their peers. Throughout the year they represent the student body and attend various workshops. Some of their major projects for this year have been changing the requirements for the Honor Roll in response to student demand, and reviewing a proposal to abolish the present class rank system. The SAC members are seniors Ed Gardner, Amy Augustino, Jay Costa, Liz Miller, and Jon Sroka, and sophomore Michelle Babigian. Mr. Hodgen is their fearless leader.

Peer Leaders are advised by Mrs. Meyers. To start off the year they meet for two days at the school for a workshop designed to highlight the benefits of working together to solve problems, emphasize teamwork, work on communication skills, and various other aspects of successful leadership. As the pictures below show, one of the activities is climbing the wall, an activity in which interaction is vital.

National Forensic League

The NFL offers an astonishing variety of categories from which to choose. Congress, extemporaneous speaking, play reading, dramatic interpretation of prose and poetry, radio broadcast-all are open to whomever wishes to join the NFL.

Political Action Group

Throughout the year the Political Action Group promotes political awareness at SHS. During the week of December 6-December 10 they sponsored Health Care Week. Morning announcements highlighted topics such as the Republican plan, the Clinton plan, and the single payer plan. During the day forums were held to discuss the same issues with Dr. Walsh and Dr. Himmelstein of U Mass and Rep. Peter Blute. Advisors Mrs. Goldman, Mr. Mulcahy and officers Brent Broszeit, Vijay Padmanabhan, Jonathan Phyfe and Robyn Alizeo coordinate the activities of the PAG. Other members are David Cignetti, Rebecca Contreras, Paul DePalo, Monique Dowling, Curtis Falzoi, Jill Hallas, Jeff Kelly, Heather Kuhn, Michael McCarthy, Danielle Merchant, Rocco Morano, Jill O'Brien, Chris Peris, Joseph Racicot, Arsheena Sahni, Yash Shah, Stephanie Strom, Jessica Sweeney, Jen Taylor, Sejal Thaker, Shana Turner, Liang Zheng, Jessica Reagey, Sharmilla Dutta and Elaine Erwin.

Science Club

The Science Club is a dedicated group that meets every Tuesday to prepare for their upcoming science competitions. For each tournament, the Science Club members must prepare for a new project. Examples of past projects are bridge building, aquatic studies, titration, and electron configuration. Members of the Science Club are Hieu Nguyen, Chris Hehardt, Jim Hutchinson, Juli LaBoube, Kate Beach, Chetak Reshamwala, Tina Nguyen, Elizabeth Rice, Magdalena Gargova, and Ben Hiltunen. The advisor of the Science Club is Mrs. Schroder.

Space Explorers

The Space Explorers run one of SHS's more unique clubs. The brain child of Mr. Rutan and Mr. Pottle, this club was begun with the idea of helping students understand the connection between astronomy and math and science. Some goals for this year are to paint an astronomy theme mural in the science wing, designing and building a small radio telescope, establishing night sky viewing sessions in the Spring which would be open to all students, constructing planet surface models, and using Mr. Pottle's two trailers for a launch project. Members are Matt Moynihan, Brian Dombrowski, David Cygielnik, and Scott Humber.

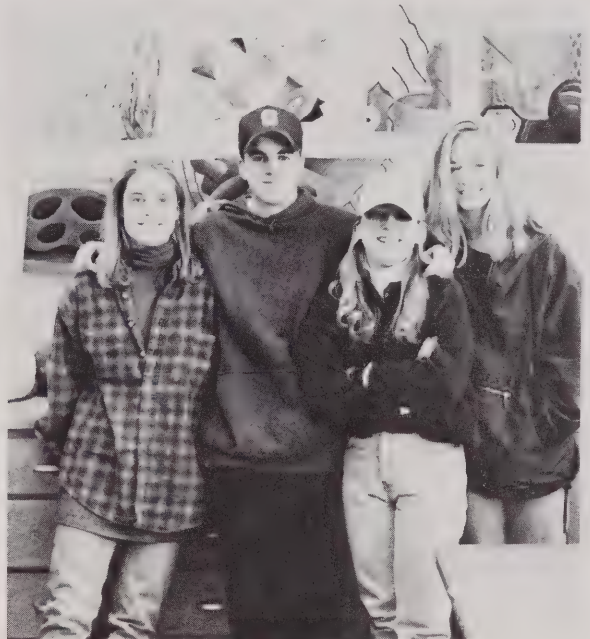

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society has developed its program around four themes: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. At top, the Officers, Catherine Gorman, President; Amy Augustino, Vice President; Danielle Merchant, Secretary; and Leslie Wu, Treasurer pose with Advisors Mrs. Tompkins and Mr. Danielson (who are also seen, center, at the NHS co-sponsored Halloween Party for Shrewsbury kids-Mr. Danielson appears as Mr. Jack-O-Lantern!) Other Halloween Party scenes include Dave Cignetti looking on as Andy Roy braces himself for the impact of "wet sponges" and Dr. Peterson reassuring his costumed grandson. Right Center, Mrs. Bagley addresses the Class of 1994 at their induction into NHS. NHS Members (first row, left to right) Leslie Wu, Deb Falzoi, Danielle Merchant, Jen Springer, Julie Cordella, Leigh Burwick, Catherine Gorman, Julianne Gestone, Tara Laggess, Beth Gregory, Sonia Fraga, Marcie Maurello, Mandy Snyder, Kristen Butke, Corey Young, Meloudy Sadat-Ali, Scott Gillam (second row) Such Mishra, Neha Sawe, Sejal Thaker, Heather Venza, Shelley Christie, Amy Augustino, Kim Merrill, Stacey Drallios, Stephen Kim, Keith Preble, Jen Labbe, Brian Huggins, Jason Bryan, Derek Capurso, Jim Hutchinson, Matt Fohlin, Mandy Ottoson, Dave Weingart, Brad Schmidt, Surendra Arora, Craig Gibson, Jen Younker, Rachel Wadsworth, Krista Hawley, Nicole Dow, Em Smith, Liz Miller, Liam Kelley, Marlon Mitchell, Jon Sroka, Khalil Samara, Jeff Harbert, Jen Grosso, Louis Corapi, Bill Lepiesza, James Parmakian, and Jeff Kelly. Not pictured are more recent inductees: Sameer Bhandarkar and Sheila McDonald.

National Art Honor Society

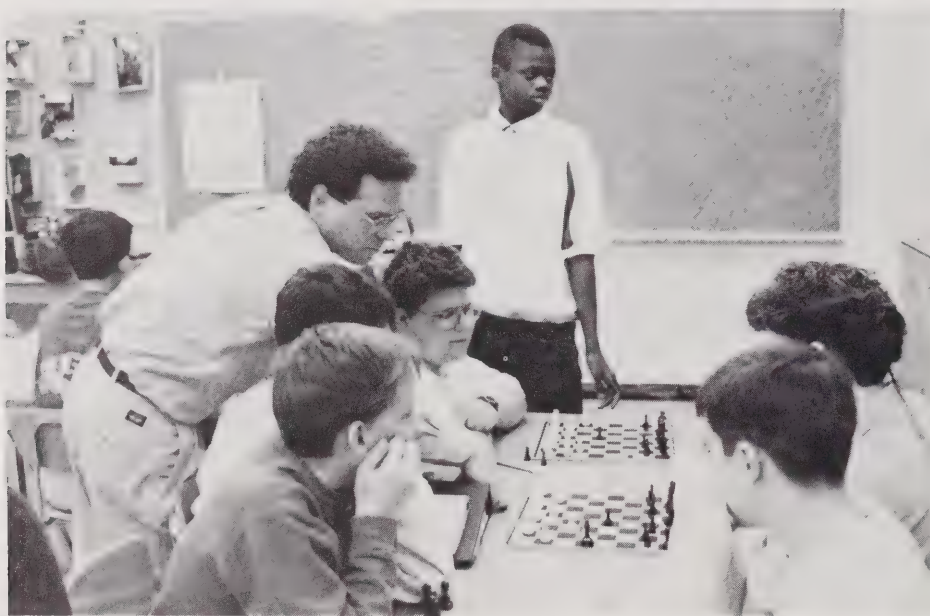

The National Art Honor Society recognizes those students who have shown outstanding art ability. Its purpose is to bring art to the attention of the school and the community, to further excellence and to foster dedication to the pursuit of art. This year the NAHS participated in many successful activities including the Haunted House at the annual Halloween party (above right), the NAHS calendar, and a student aid project at Paton. Members of the NAHS: (Front Row) Mrs. Welch (Advisor), Stephanie Pantazis, Meghan Catlin, Nikki DiLeo, Ashley Nagle, Korey Young, Deanna Angelo, Paige Harris, Selena Young, Justin Karaway-Waterhouse, Francesco Froio, Mrs. Roddy (Advisor); (2nd Row) Helen Bafalon, Ben Sweet, Amy Correia, Sara DiPilato, Susan Christie, Erin Benoit, Ed Paquette, Christina Danielson, Mary Beth Flynn; (3rd Row) Jessica Guimond, Matt Hochstein, Pat Gerardi, Tracy McFadden, David Parmenter, Mark Roberts, Tracy Law, Kari Harbert; (4th Row) Rebecca Ahlfors, Dennis King, Jen Nolle, Adam Starr, Karen Damico, Jeff Ondovic, Mandy Snyder; (Back Row) Heather Costello, Sue Watt, Catherine Gorman, January Spalatro, Rick Filippetti, Bridget Richardson, Courtney Ryall, Julie Wright, Craig Gibson, Chris Sweet, Joe Liberty.

Chess Club

The Chess Club meets every activity period, as well as sponsoring tournaments throughout the year. Everyone is welcome, so there is no formal membership. As you can see from the pictures, chess games can get very intense but the Chess Club manages to have fun anyway. Stop by some time and maybe you'll even get to play a game or two with chess whiz, and advisor, Mr. Secino.

Odyssey of the Mind

Odyssey of the Mind (OM) involves solving extremely complicated problems through a "skit." OM is an activity that is performed globally. The students in OM have the opportunity to compete in the World tournament, if their team (usually made up of eight students or less) qualifies. This year, the World competition takes place in Iowa. The members of this year's three teams at SHS are: Luby Mishra, Jeff Koenecke, Mark Ethier, Chet Reshamala, Jay Perreault, Kisha Josie, Rachael Cooper, Juliana LaBoube, Julie Mirlicourtois, Joel McGrath, Dave Cignetti, Kristin Corapi, Sara Saba, Karin Eckberg, and Almas Rathod. The coaches of these teams are Mrs. Koenecke, Mrs. Josie, and Mrs. Mirlicourtois.

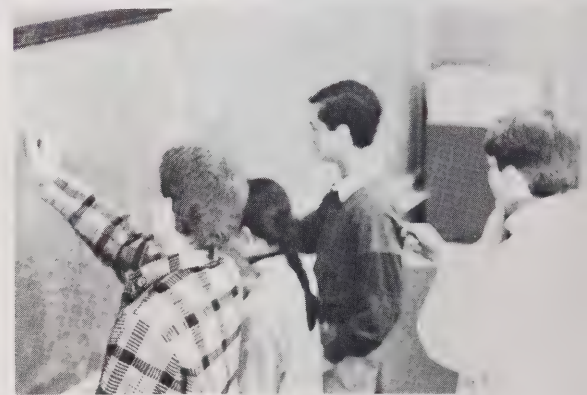

Junior
Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross, advised by Miss Murray, is an organization that always welcomes new members. The members of the The Junior Red Cross collect money throughout the year for other organizations involved in helping the sick, homeless, and less fortunate. In the past, the Junior Red Cross has organized the AIDS Volleyball Tournament and collected money during lunches for the Blood Drive. Above; Monique Dowling and Jill Hallas are showing off their sign with enthusiasm. The officers are Sherry Daviau, Kelly McCarthy, Lisa Watson, and Sarah Sogian.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is an organization which has chapters world wide. Students at Shrewsbury who are involved with Amnesty are able to make a difference. Each week students gather to write letters of action to foreign governments. The purpose of which is to correct some form of atrocity that a government is inflicting on an individual or a group of people. Amnesty International's goal is establishing human rights for the whole world. SHS Amnesty students are doing their part. Mr. Chace is the Amnesty Advisor.

Parabolas, polynomials and planes oh-my! Math Teams don't have long workout hours in the weight room, but they do spend time "hitting the books." Students who excel with facts and figures compete against other schools. There are many levels of difficulty for the problems, but some of them might leave your math teacher checking an answer more than once. Perhaps someday, a Math team member might follow in Newton's footsteps. He invented a whole new branch of math (calculus) to make physics easier. The Varsity Math team's advisor is Mrs. Kupcinkus, and the Freshmen advisor is Mrs. Bilodeau.

Kids Involved in Tomorrow's Environmental Solutions has just finished its fifth year. A club unique to SHS, KITES was started when the graduating seniors were eighth graders. Mrs. O'Leary and some Eight White students lay the ground work for a class about the environment to be taught in school. KITES has been a class and a club, but the focus has never changed — the environment. KITES has continued aluminum can return and recycling: 15 cents per pound for recycled fruit juice cans from a Worcester scrap metal company. Donations go to more than a half dozen environmental organizations. How many cans does it take to equal one pound? KITES also recycles newspapers at the Center on South Street (here, Jen Burton, a staunch member since the beginning, sorts newspapers) and had an environmental awareness T-shirt sale. It will celebrate Earth Day again this year in April. Students who involve themselves with KITES can say that they are actively working to save the planet.

KITES SHARE

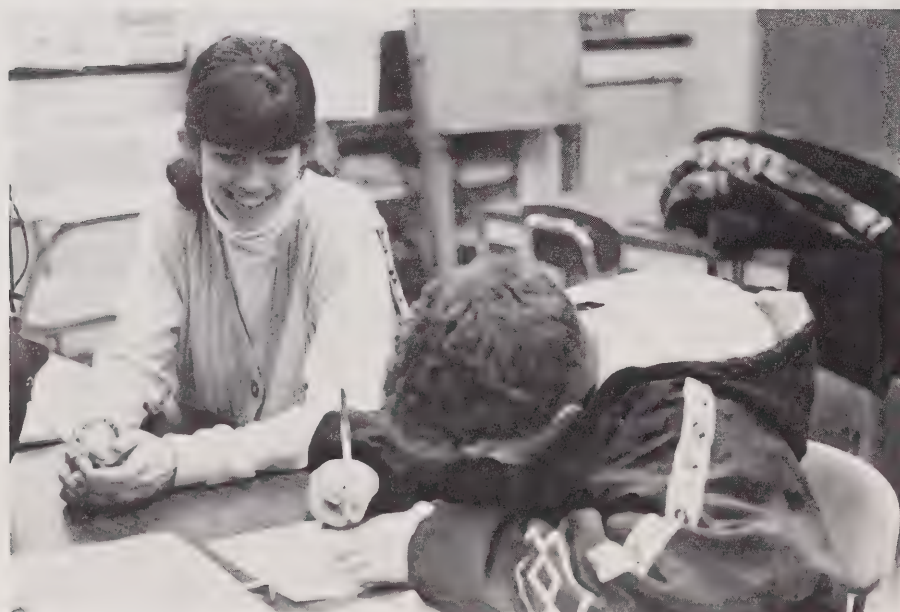

While KITES is looking out for the environment, Students Helping Animals Reach Equality is bringing awareness to the problems that are affecting the inhabitants of the environment. SHARE was created this year by Mrs. Abraham and students who are concerned with the treatment of animals in the wild and in experimentation and exploitation. SHARE works not only to bring recognition of the cruelty to animals to SHS students, but also to the perpetrators of the cruelty. Students involved with SHARE are truly "animals' best friends."

Peer Tutors

The peer tutoring program run by Mrs. DiLeo is an opportunity for students having trouble in a subject to get help from a peer, rather than from a teacher. Peer tutors are for the most part National Honor Society members who donate their free periods to tutor in a wide range of subjects such as English, French, physics, geometry, biology. Since its conception by Mr. Anthony Manzello, the peer tutoring program has been extremely popular and is a valuable resource for SHS.

Foreign Exchange Students

The foreign exchange students have traveled from various parts of the world to study in the United States. Hopefully they have enjoyed their experiences in Shrewsbury- we will miss them when they return home to their countries! To the right are the Foreign Exchange Students: Csilla Beres (Czechoslovakia), Bruno Costa (Brazil), Kaan Ercel (Turkey), Anne Frenzel (Germany), Juhana Jalkanen (Finland), Susanne Jansson (Sweden), Joanna Legierska (Poland), Luigi Palmieri (Italy), and Dafinka Nikolovska (Macedonia). Armed and Dangerous

Field Hockey

The Field Hockey Team tried hard this year and had fun. Their 2-6-7 record doesn't pay tribute to the talent of this team. The tri-captains Catherine "Stormin'" Gorman, goalie Liz Miller and "all over the field" Meg Krause led the team in spirit and pride. Mandy Synder, Rachel Todd, Kristin Butke, Stacy Drallios, Vicky McCoy, Julie Cordella and Christine Smolynsky did well on line. No matter who was in the game, they always played as a team. On defense who could forget about "Smokin'" Heather Venza and Leigh Burwick. As these twelve seniors graduate, they leave behind varsity's leading scorer Khara Grieger, defense's "Trippin'" Tanya Joise, Sara DiPilato, Kristen Mulhall and their coach Pam Krause. The team survived the long season and finished the '93 season by pulling together to tie the toughest team in the league, Wachusett.

Football

This season the football team was captained by Michael Erwin and Patrick Finacom. Injuries to seniors Bob DeCoteau, Matt Thibodeau, and Aviv Kaufman, and to junior Peter Yablonski caused the team to fall short of their pre-season expectations. The offense was led by senior quarterback Jason Costa and senior running back John O'Connor, while the defense was led by leading senior tacklers Mike Erwin, Jared Holley, and Pat Finacom. The team opened the season with a strong win over Westboro and other highlights from this season included beating Wachusett Regional in overtime with a field goal by senior John O'Connor. Strong leadership was provided by all of the seniors. The twenty-one graduating seniors will leave a large void, but Co-Captain-elects Ed Bourget, Greg Calimeris, and Justin Grenier will lead the team in the right direction next season.

Boys' Soccer

Varsity warms up before their game against Algonquin.

The 1993 Varsity Soccer season began with a bang and ended with a fizzle. Shrewsbury came out surprisingly strong, winning its first game against an aggressive Algonquin team. Unfortunately, from that point on, the team was on a down hill journey. Plagued by numerous injuries ("broken wheels") to key players, the results were losses which could have easily been victories. Led by senior captains Derek Capurso and Craig Gibson the team played every game to the best of its ability. Directed by Coach Jim McKinley, who emphasized sportsmanship, soccer skills, and how to "churn the butter," the team battled through a difficult year in which it learned to win graciously and lose with dignity.

Girls Make it Three in a Row

Girls' Soccer

With a new coaching staff, the Girls' Varsity Soccer Team had a very successful season. Captains Tara Largess and Shelley Cristie lead the team to a final record of 10-8-2. Despite losing Tara to a knee injury early in the season, the team was able to make it to the district quarter-finals for the third straight year, where they lost to a tough Marlboro team. Highlights for the girls this season were tying Nashoba Regional 1-1 at home and beating Wachusett Regional 2-0 to clinch a spot in districts. The team will miss leading scorer Shelley Christie (17 goals), and senior leadership of Tara Largess, Meg Ramsay, Kim Merrill, Courtney Ryall, Krista Hawley, Juliane Gestone, Bridget Richardson, and Beth Gregory.

Boys' Cross Country

The boys' cross country team enjoyed great success this season, posting a 7-2 record. In his second year coaching the boys, Coach Smith inspired his runners with his tireless work ethic and incredibly tortuous workouts. Seniors Liam Kelly, Josh Curtis, Bill Lepiesza, and Jim Keegan, along with underclassmen distance running sensations Curt Falzoi and Mike Koziara combined to bring about a new era in Shrewsbury Cross Country history, leading one of the greatest teams the school has ever had.

Seventh in the State

Girls' Cross Country

With the top five runners running as a pack throughout the season the girls cross country team was virtually unstoppable in their dual meets. Unfortunately, they finished second to their running rivals, Wachusett Regional, in both the League Meet and the District Meet. However, at the State Meet at Northfield Mountain, the girls team swept the Central Massachusetts competition and finished seventh overall. The team will miss seniors Johanna Grochowalski, Rachel Wadsworth, Korey Young, and Emily Smith, but looks forward to next season, being led by Meghan Moriarty, Karla Jarquin, and Meg Correia.

A Tower Of Power

Fall Cheerleading

The season started in June when the cheerleaders tried out for a spot on the Varsity Football Cheering Squad. Those who made the team attended a four day summer camp at Holy Cross College, where they learned new stunts and cheers. Practice was held several times a week during the season. At every game they cheered on the SHS Football Team. Practices include learning new cheers, creating original stunts and beginning routines for the upcoming tournament season.

Blaze of Glory

Boys' and Girls' Indoor Track

The Boys' and Girls' Indoor Track Teams had truly spectacular seasons, far exceeding any preconceived goals. Under the veteran leadership of captains Bill Lepiesza, Jason Costa, Courtney Ryall, Mandy Snyder, and Johanna Grochowalski, the boys and girls found their strength in numbers, competing fiercely in all areas, and dominating the Mid-Wach League in the shotput, hurdles, and distances. Seniors Bob Décoteau, Liam Kelly, Jim Keevan, Ed Gardner, Bill

Lepiesza, Jason Costa, James Parmakian, Binh Bui, and John O'Connor for the boys and Johanna Grochowalski, Courtney Ryall, Emily Smith, and Mandy Snyder for the girls, made up the core of the team; and with underclassmen sensations Mike Koziara, Rich Cornaby, Gary Buono, Matt Flynn, Rebecca Liston, Meg Moriarty, Amy Correia, Karla Jarquin, and Karin Rood the team looks to keep its reputation as "the team to beat" far into the future.

HAVE A HOOP!

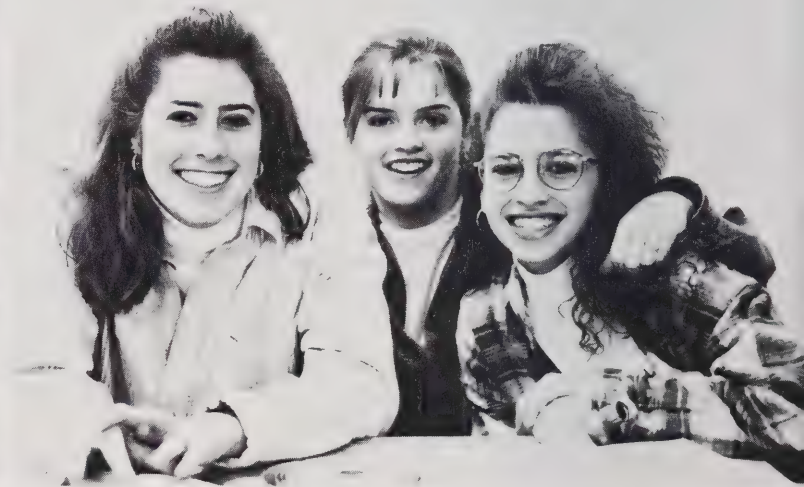

Boys' Basketball

This year's basketball team wasn't expected to be a dominating force in the MidWach League. However, they proved many critics wrong with a 3-1 start, including an exciting overtime victory at Southbridge and an unbelievable win over Fitchburg High at home. They beat the Red Raiders for the first time in close to ten years. With leadership from senior starters Ron Scarborough, Jeff Zalieckas, Andy Roy, and Mike Riley the Colonials could be on their way to their first winning season since 1989. Other seniors contributing this year are Nathan Rand, Jean Cetoute, Alec Soter, and Brent Broszeit. Up and coming underclassmen, Matt Hochstein, Deion Welch, Dan Kewly, and Thuri Swenson may be the start of a winning tradition for Shrewsbury basketball in years to come.

Colonials . . . Together!

Girls' Basketball

This year the girls varsity basketball program at Shrewsbury High School welcomed a new head coach, Ernie Bartier. On the whole, this year's squad is very young. There are only four seniors, one of whom, Tara Largess, is injured. Captain Katie Pratt along with the other seniors, Ashley Marquis and Sharon Mickevich, are faced with the challenge of guiding and leading their younger teammates. Although the start of the season has been rough, a 1-4 record, it's only a matter of time before this team starts to reach their full potential. In one of the Colonials' victories Katie Pratt scored an outstanding 20 points and freshman small forward Meridith Roy poured in 12 to help the team beat Marian High School. Also pitching in were Sharon Mickevich and Ashley Marquis who controlled the boards all game. Win or lose however, these girls will always be Colonials . . . Together!

Gymnastics

The Shrewsbury High Gymnastics team has dominated the Mid-Wach League for the past five years under the direction of Ms. Siddell and Ms. Niechwadowicz-Walsh. Despite nagging injuries, Captain Tegan DeWallace, along with the other seniors, Sue Watt, Beth Gregory, and Marlyce Mancini helped the team, earning near-perfect scores. Underclassmen Sharon White, Merissa Haddad, Melissa Baima and Michelle McNeil also made major contributions to the team.

Skating with the Best

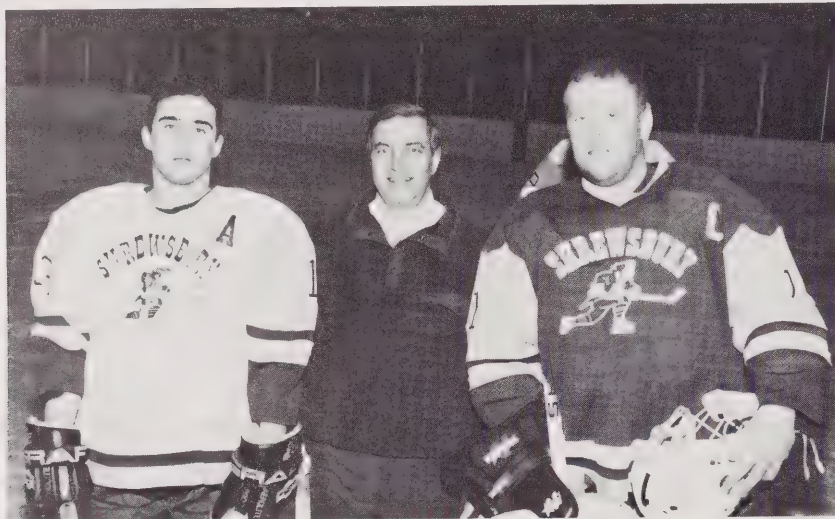

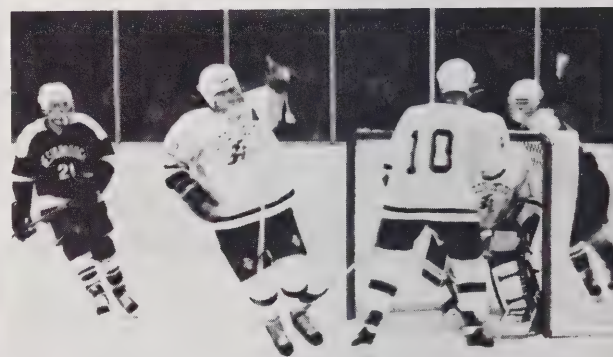

Ice Hockey

Under the direction of Coach Irving and Assistant Coaches Magnuson and Cox, the hockey team had a very successful season. The team had good depth this year, and were able to skate three strong lines, with Ed Bourget, Kevin Roy, Jeff Lemire, Keith Belinskas, Nick Humphrey, and Tom Villotte standing out. Ed Bourget is the team's leading scorer. His shining moments include nine goals in the opening game of the season. The goalies, under the direction of Assistant Coach Cox include Joe Duquette, Mike DeLuca, and starting line goalie and captain, Kevin Roy. The SHS Team also enjoyed periodic visits from Boston Bruins Pro Hockey Player Adam Oates.

Winter Cheerleading

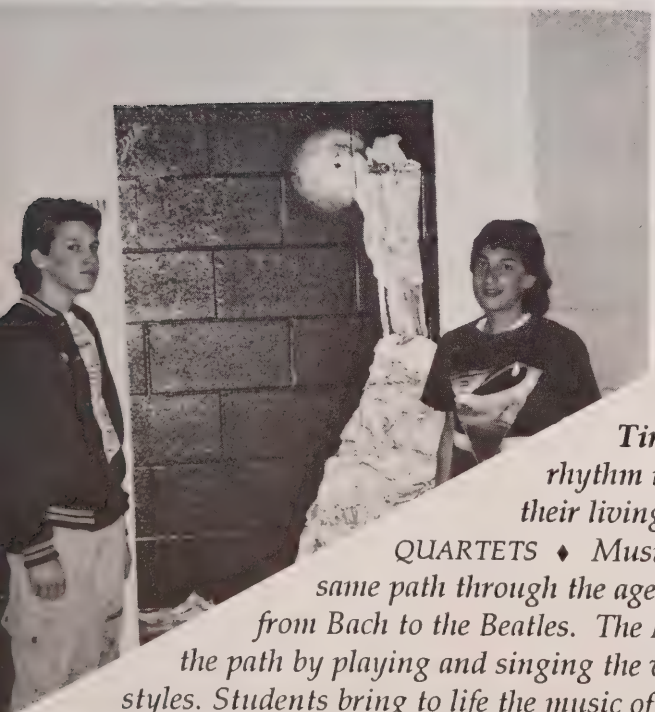

The Winter Season is actually two seasons — basketball cheering and tournament cheering. Tournament cheering is the cheerleaders' season, when they create a routine that is four minutes long and includes dances, pyramids, stunts, tumbling, and cheers. The cheerleaders meet every week day, Saturday, and occasionally Sunday to put together and polish their routine. Their commitment during the basketball season helps them immensely when it comes time to compete. Hard work and dedication really pays off at the games when they get the stands up and rowdie (R-O-W-D-I-E) and cheer on the Colonial basketball players (R-E-B-O, U-N-D-S!).

Jay Popp seems to be enjoying his front row seat at the game.

"Keeping Time, keeping the rhythm in their dancing as in their living." -- T. S. ELIOT, FOUR

QUARTETS ♦ Music and mankind have traveled the same path through the ages. The world is much better for talents from Bach to the Beatles. The Music Department at SHS continues along the path by playing and singing the works of many different artists, Time periods and styles. Students bring to life the music of yesterday and today in moving performances. Hours of the practice are evident in each, whether in the football stands or at opening night in the auditorium. The

Time that each student spends perfecting his or her own musical talents benefits not only that individual, but everyone touched by the sound of SHS Music. ♦ "True music...must repeat the thought and inspiration of the people and the Time." -- GERSHWIN, GERSHWIN YEARS, JABLONSKI, STEWART

Come and March with the Band

The Shrewsbury High School Band, conducted by Mrs. Hatfield, not only performs in concert, but also entertains and supports at football games. During the mid-winter concert, the Band performed Aladdin, Pat a Pan, and A Sleigh Ride. Soloists included Brad Schmidt, Bridget Bergan, Kristin Butke, Reuven Singer, and David Weingart.

This year the Band plans a field trip to Virginia Busch Gardens, where they will give a concert with the Orchestra and Concert Choir. (top right) The infamous Q-tips strut their stuff during the halftime performance.

"Sync" your eyes into the Jazz Band

While the Band and Orchestra demonstrate the "classical" view of music to Shrewsbury High, the Jazz Band's purpose is to add some fast syncopation and rhythm to the beat of the music. Jazz Band, like the other music programs at SHS, plays an important part in introducing to the school different themes and variations of our cultural music. Whether the music is from A Night in Tunisia by Dizzy Gillespie or You Too by Jeff Taylor, the members of the Jazz Band are always ready to give their audience a top-rate performance. On alto sax are Kelly McCarthy and Jeff Kelly while Arto Asadoorian and Ed Merchant play the tenor sax. William Lepiesza, alone, plays the "bari" sax. Trumpets are Matt Cygielnik, Glenn Gould, Peter Marsh, and John Phyfe. Playing the trombone and baritone are Sharon Mickevich, Nathan Rand, and Yoshio Shartin. Alone on the piano is Alison Jolicoeur, while David Capelle, Matthew Haddad and Darren Kelly pluck the strings on their guitars. On bass we have Ryan Keck and Brian Keating and on drums, Matthew King, Christopher Olds, and Michael Ushinski.

With its elegant and suave instrument sections, the Orchestra is the most "classical" music group at Shrewsbury High School. Mr. Ralph Metcalf is the director of the Orchestra, conducting each its sections: the first violins, the second violins, the violas, the cellos, and the double basses.

Among the SHS musical groups, the Orchestra is unique. Its small group of musicians allows the inclusion of eighth graders, giving them an extra year to further their musical skills. The Orchestra's performances included Bloch's Prelude, Corelle's Concerto, Grosso and Handel's Hallelujah Chorus.

Soloists include Julie Swartwout, Adam Popkin, and George Bitsakis. The Orchestra has also had the opportunity to perform a concert at Digital.

Concert Choir is another Shrewsbury High music group which provides entertainment. Students from the Concert Choir not only participate in music concerts but also perform and sing in Shrewsbury High's annual musical play.

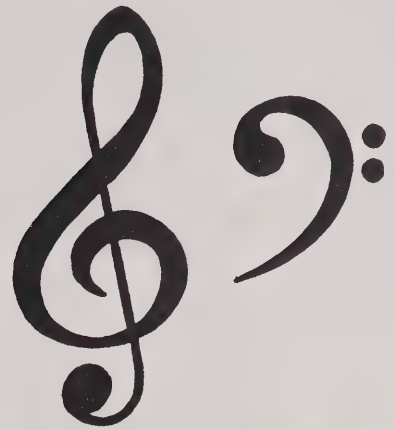

The 89 members of the Concert Choir are conducted by Mr. Jack Feldheimer, the Director of Music at Shrewsbury High School. Mrs. Selma Gottlieb accompanies the Choir at the piano.

The Concert Choir performed among other selections America the Beautiful, with Sheila McDonald as the Soloist at the Fall Concert, and at the Holiday Concert, an Irving Berlin Christmas as well as the traditional Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah.

"Jesus Christ Superstar": "Jesus is Cool!"

For the first time ever, Shrewsbury High's spring musical took the form of an opera . . . a Rock Opera. A company of 130 (the largest in recent memory) worked tediously for three months to perform "Jesus Christ Superstar". "Superstar" tells the story of Jesus Christ's last week on earth, but removes the religious aspect from the story. The show required great vocal range, and was also physically and emotionally demanding of the principals. After all the hard work, this musical was a technical wonder, leaving the audiences in awe. "Jesus Christ Superstar", 1994 A.D. proved to be a showcase for the professionalism of Shrewsbury High School productions, and the dedication of Mr. Jack Feldheimer.

LYNN,

We hope your world will be full of memories and laughter. May you continue to "reach for the stars" in all that you do as your future unfolds. Always remember to be yourself.

We love you and all you have accomplished.

Love, Dad, Mom & Joey

Bob,

You've fed the ravens at the Tower of London, ascended Eiffel's masterpiece in Paris, walked on the historic stones in Red Square, and climbed the Pyramids at Giza.

You've strolled along China's Great Wall, and eaten sausages behind Fenway's "Great Wall" As we travelled together, we opened your eyes to this very small world.

You've travelled many roads with us, and now the time has come for you to "travel" new roads on your own.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Marybeth,

May the sun shine warm upon your face,
and the rains fall soft upon your fields forever-

Fairy Tales

*It seems wherever we go,
People come into our lives or go out of them.
Touching us where we can feel,
Then leaving us just a memory.
Like the gossamer fairy tales of children,
Easily forgotten, and when we weren't through knowing them.
How do we know who we are seeing for the last time?
How do we halt our lives- to gather and keep all those around us,
That we've ever known?
And how do we keep fairy tales from losing their magic?*

*So come brush against the walls of my life.
And stay long enough for us to know,
The longer you stay, the more I will want you back when you are gone.
But come back anyway,
For fairy tales are the happiest stories we know.
And great books are made up of little chapters!

My Friends: After twelve years, this is it. It is time to say goodbye as we have come to the end of one of many roads in our lives. Through good times and bad we've been together, and the memories we've shared will last a lifetime.

Aaron, Kylee, and Mariah: You have got to be the best brother and sisters a person could have. Make the most of everything and don't grow up too fast.

Mom and Dad: I thank God everyday for blessing me with such wonderful parents. Your love will always be in my heart, and always remember that I love you both with all my soul.

TO JOHANNA

*When you were a little girl,
Filled with wonder and promise,
We asked ourselves,
What will she become,
This daughter of ours?
Will she be successful?
Will she be happy?
Will she succeed?
We watched you grow and change.
You crawled, then walked, then ran,
And became a State Champion.
You rode a bike, then drove a car,
And kept us worrying about you until you came back home.
You talked,
And talked,
And talked,
And occasionally let the rest of us use the phone.
You studied and learned
and met new people.
You were born a middle child, yet*

*by some strange process, became a person of your own.
You met the world with the wonder of a child and emerged
a young woman.
You grew up too fast.
You graduated
and are off to college,
And it's time to let you go.
But it's hard because you will always be our little girl.
We are proud of you.
We love you.
We take some small pride in that,
as parents, we did not spoil who you have become (and maybe take a little credit, too).
We congratulate you
on being who you are.
We know you will keep success,
kindness, and wonder forever in your heart.
Good luck, Chub!*

WE'RE PUBLIC POWERFUL !

Local people pulling together to meet local needs—that's what public power is all about.

Because public power is community owned, we all have a say in how it serves us.

Because it's nonprofit, consumers and the community reap all the benefits.

And, because public power is locally controlled, it helps set—and achieve—the economic and environmental goals of our community.

That makes public power a business that looks good to new business. And that means more people pulling for the future of our community.

Look at public power in a new light. After all, it's yours.

Thoughts From the '94 Advisors

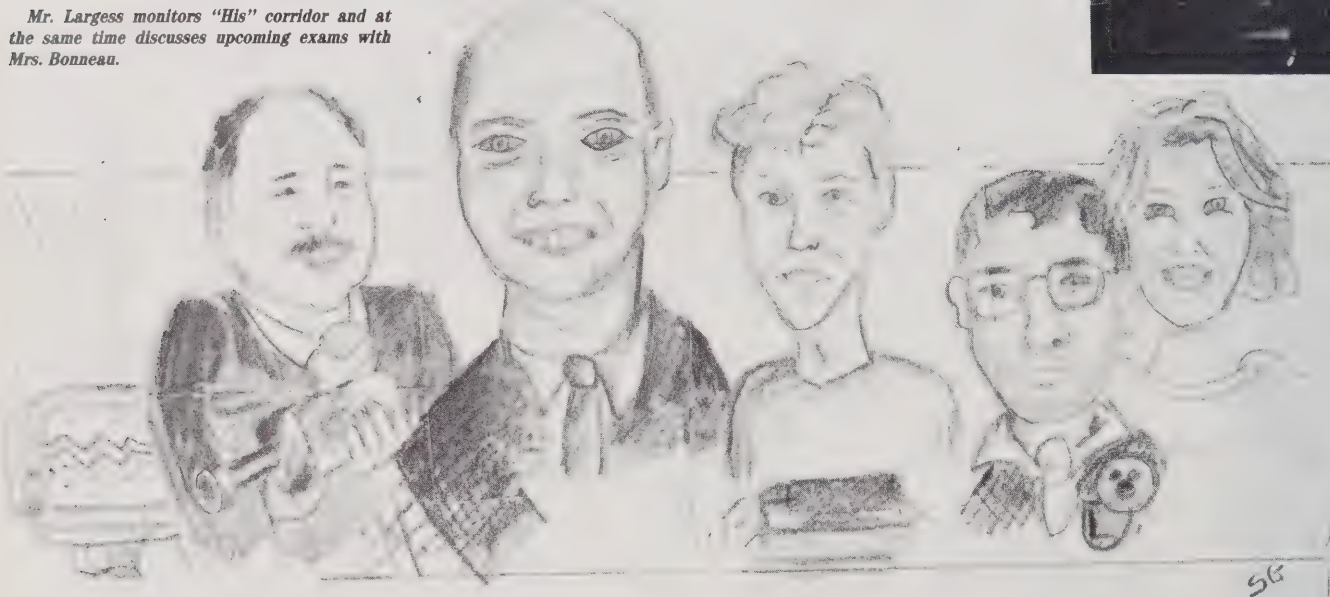

Mr. Cornacchioli:

In the future, when your deadlines approach, remember to access your prior experiences! We planned, we produced, we succeeded! Best wishes.

Mr. Largess:

When you were 8th graders, I told you these five years would fly by. They have! also said that I hoped you would be better people for having spent five years here at SHS. You are!! Best wishes for a great life. Do your part in making the world a better place.

Mr. Largess monitors "His" corridor and at the same time discusses upcoming exams with Mrs. Bonneau.

Mrs. LaBelle:

You're an extremely talented group. Your creativity and energy will always distinguish you. But what will remain in my thoughts is your amazing esprit de corps. Your caring and openness to each other make you very special. Continue to be gentle to all the people you meet in life. Being your advisor and teacher has been a great pleasure.

Mr. Chace:

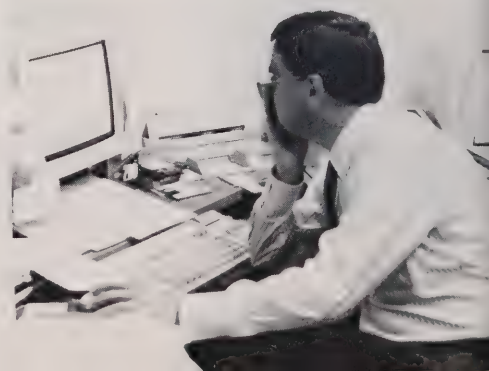

Work hard and learn so that when opportunity knocks, you will be ready to take advantage of it. Working hard and achieving success provides the chance for more hardwork and hopefully more success. Above all, remember that "Life is a journey, not a goal."

Mrs. O'Leary:

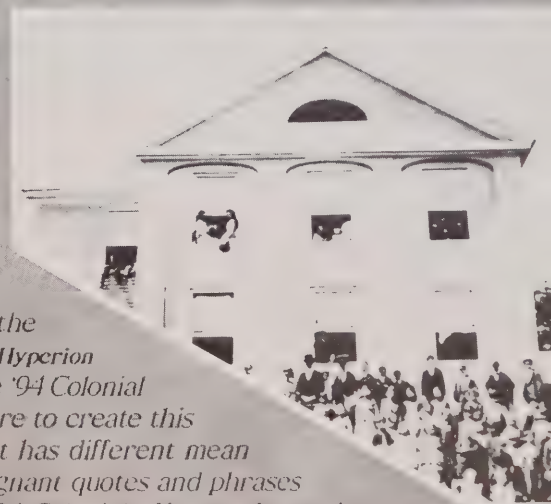

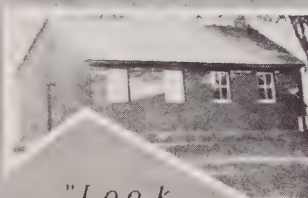

More than a few of us started this journey five years ago on Eight White! I remember well those invigorating early Cape Cod mornings! It was morning, noon, and night as Auction '94 approached! Weekends and vacations were consumed by the Sophomore Dance and Junior Prom. Among, during and between have been classes in Geography, KITES, Civics, World Civilizations, China and the USSR and World Events. Working together on Yearbook '94, we've had to find a new dimension in TIME! It has been a memorable experience for me. "Godspeed!" Maybe, now, I'll get my room cleaned!

Mr. Brandmeyer:

Congratulations on your graduation. You began your high school career with a Bang (Auction '94) and never really looked back. As you look to the future, remember SHS fondly. We expect great future successes from all of you. Best of luck in all that you do.

Shrewsbury in sketches and early photographs brings back memories of a long ago Time. 1. Sketch from 1861 of Lake Quinsigamond, the college regatta, Pong Tavern House and floating bridge (note it to the right). Crew shells are on the far side of the lake. 2. An 1870 photo of the Common and the Sumner House, still to its west. Are the children on their way home from school? 3. Children from Center School at recess or after school and their version of football. The ancestor of today's "140" is in the background. 4. Clues Street and the Goddard Cottage, probably the former School House #7 which originally stood on Grafton Street. 5. Civil War vets and families meet in front of their monument on the Common. 6. Main Circle, The Pease Tavern in 1867. George Washington stopped here when it was owned by John Farrar. The house was originally built for Shrewsbury's first doctor, Joshua Smith. 7. School House #6 on Bolyston Street from 1856 to 1928 (Buxton Photo). 8. West Main Street at Mill Road, Number #5 School House (built 1828 and still there!). 9. Old Brick School, from an 1875 photo by Mrs. Parks. Today it is headquarters for the Shrewsbury Historical Society and the Shrewsbury M.E. Credit Union, located north of the Common.

"Look not mournfully into the Past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the Present. It is thine. Go forth to meet the shadowy future, without fear..." -Longfellow, Hyperion

The theme for each year's yearbook is unique. The '94 Colonial Staff was able to incorporate the past, present and future to create this year's theme, Time. This fourth dimensional measurement has different meaning to different people. Thus the yearbook staff has chosen poignant quotes and phrases from famous persons to introduce the different sections of the '94 Colonial. Yet "a picture is worth a thousand words." Accompanying the quotes are photographs of the graduating seniors from over the years. The overall effect is a sense of the passage of Time, and the promise that tomorrow brings. Lyndon Johnson surmises the importance of this chronicle of Time, "Yesterday is not ours to recover, but tomorrow is ours to win or to lose" (address to the nation Nov. 28, 1963). As we enter into the post high school world, we can bring with us the memories of high school, but we will be focusing on making a mark on tomorrow. No matter what the future may hold for us, we may never fully realize the impact our high school years have had on our lives. The '94 Colonial will always be there on a bookshelf to reopen the past at your leisure, to spend some Time remembering friends, teachers, activities, and fond memories of five years of youthful bliss. "The future is called "perhaps," which is the only possible thing to call the future. And the important thing is not to allow that to scare you."

- Tennessee Williams, "The Past, Present, and Perhaps," Orpheus Descending

The 1880's and 1890's were Times of advancement in Shrewsbury. 1. The Joseph Mitchell house built by Amasa Howe. Photo by William Parker in the 1890's. Driver and horse with carriage pose for the camera. 2. Samuel Howe and Son in front of their store, which also served as the Post Office, sometime between 1880 and 1885 (southeast corner of the Center intersection). 3. Probably Joanne Conway, who ran the store, pictured here. John Conway ran the barber shop and lived upstairs (south-west corner, Grafton Street at the Center). 4. Pond House, corner Maple Avenue and Oak, taken in 1882. 5. The Shrewsbury High School built in 1883, northeast of the Center. Today, this site is part of the Library parking lot. 6. The Shrewsbury Stage in the 1890's.

These pictures recapture a Time about a century ago! 1. A c. 1890 photograph shows Walter C. Howe's Lake Street home. It is interesting to note the family's attire. The family dog and cat complete the picture! 2. The Picard Place on South Street was the scene of an auction. The old Brigham barn, which stood on Brook Street, shows in the background. 3. Heather Costello '94 drew a scene of White City Amusement Park for the NAHS Calendar. White City (West) is now on this site. 4. This picture was made in 1898 after the Great Blizzard of February 1st of Long Hill, the Worcester Road in Shrewsbury. We call it Maple Avenue now! 5. An early Shrewsbury High Graduating Class. Might it have been the Class of 1894???

Time has brought many changes to the highways and byways to, from and through Shrewsbury! 1. Looking toward the center from Boylston Street at Rawson Place. The Tosi Place is seen directly above The Drury-Bannister House. 2. Jefferson Dean's Shoe Shop at the end of Gulf Street on what is now Boylston Circle. This was formerly the main road between Boylston and Shrewsbury. 3. Drury-Bannister (see 1. above) c. 1900 at Rawson Place. The ell is very ancient, perhaps dating back to the days of the Rawson Grant. 4. The Boston Turnpike - Route 9 - taken near Lake Street facing toward Worcester. 5. Brigham's Corner. The Rice House is at left. It was torn down to make way for Beal. Rice owned the land to the west where presently there are two gas stations. He used to bring his cows right up Main Street and down Grafton and pastured them at the site of today's Paton School. (Herbert Buxton Photo). The Maynard House is seen between Maple and Main. 6. The former Harrington Farm along what is now Route 9. 7. The leather industry was important in Shrewsbury. This is the Green and Hickey Leather Goods Factory on Main Street.

Much has changed in Shrewsbury with the passage of Time. 1. The Fire Barn is gone, although the present Fire Station in the Center is at the same location. 2. The Methodist Church and the Trolley are no longer, but the two buildings flanking Grafton Street still remain (circa 1910 photo). 3. A Bullard photo taken in 1912 or thereabouts off Grafton Street. Edward Flint's horses at Hobb's Driveway with Ed Laverty, Walter Brigham, Walter Reed, Johnny Putnam and Phil Picard. 4. The Circus at Dean Park over 80 years ago. 5. Mill Pond is still there, but the Mill and the folks of a century ago are long gone. 6. Grafton Street looking north toward the center at Wesleyan during the horse and buggy days. Many of the homes still stand. The notable changes are the road surface and street lights.

Difficult Times try the mettle of a Community. Shrewsbury has proved to be a survivor! 1. Celebrating the winning of World War 1 at the Center. 2. A float from the WW 1 Parade. 3. Photo taken at Boston Turnpike and Walnut Street of uniformed riders and horses. In the background, the Balch-Dean House, standing on one of the originally designated house lots in Shrewsbury. The house was recently moved to a nearby site in the vicinity of the adjacent Shrewsbury Village shopping center. 4. Owned by Dr. Chase, whose car is parked in front, this Victorian Mansion stood on the northeast corner of the Center intersection until replaced by this Town Hall (5). which served the Community well. High School musicals were presented on its second floor stage! It was demolished in 1966 to make way for the present modern library addition. 6. A 1921 photo shows the damage from a severe ice storm. Grafton Street looking toward Shrewsbury Center.

There was a Time when Beal was the Shrewsbury High School (1.) This is a 1923 Herbert Buxton photo of Beal. 2. The Congregational Church at the Center after it lost its steeple in the hurricane of September 21st, 1938. 3. The Hills mansion on the Southwest Cut-off, now the Hebert Candy Mansion! 4. No longer standing on Maple Avenue is the Brewer Mansion, built originally by Philip Moen on the site of the Silas B. Howe farm. 5. Yes, this IS Oak Street, before the arrival of the present Shrewsbury High School: The Bigelow House and the Wood's House. The Woods owned much of the land between Oak and Crescent Street. The entrance to SHS is beyond the Wood's House, and of course, Oak Street is now wider and paved!

SHS 1994 Yearbook Colophon

Volume XXXV of the Colonial Yearbook is printed on 236 pages of 80 lb Mead Dull stock, Type is Korinna with Headlines of varying point and style. The staff met its February 1st completion deadline and kept within its budget. Subscription price was $25. Advertising exceeded $7,500, including 33 sponsored pages by Homerooms, Departments, Clubs, and Teams. The cover is customized, featuring the metalay embossed Colonial, designed especially for SHS by Mr. Henry Sroka. The spine is silkscreened. The Endsheets are process color reproductions of Mr. Joseph Deignan's gift of pastel paintings of two of Shrewsbury's schools of earlier Times! We are indebted to Mr. John Hodgen, for permitting inclusion of his poetry from his book, "In My Father's House"; to Mr. Robert Cormier, for permitting us to peruse and use in our Index his extensive notes and slides of earlier Shrewsbury Times (as well as HIS mentor, Mr. Henry Harlow). Our publisher was Jostens Printing and Publishing of State College, PA, represented by Mr. Dan Smith of Hopkinton, MA, and our in-plant consultant was Linda Nolf. Senior Portraits were predominantly by Grampietro, Hilton, Keegan, and A. O'Leary. The planned Spring "EXTRA!" will be distributed to all 675 Yearbook '94 Subscribers.
